Trucker Killed In Wreck

CRASH VICTIM. Pennsylvania state police and ambulance workers cover the body of Ralph Edward Jones, 24 of Atlantic, Pa., after he was removed from the tangled wreckage of his tractor-trailer truck which flipped Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Routes 18 and 30. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

A Pennsylvania trucker was killed almost instantly Tuesday at 1 p. m. when his tractor-trailer rig, apparently running out of control, flipped over at the bottom of a grade at the intersection of Routes 18 and 30 (Hillendale) in Hanover Township, Beaver County.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Beaver County Coroner Mearl Bozett. Mr. Jones was pinned under the wreckage. A wrecker had to lift the vehicle so police could remove the body. Bozett said he died of a crushed chest.

Authorities believe the brakes failed on the rig as it was descending the steep grade. Witnesses at the scene said they heard the driver sounding the horn all the way down the hill.

When the truck rounded a curve onto Route 30, the load of steel sheets shifted, causing the rig to flip. The steel spilled onto a bank on the left side of the highway.

Mr. Jones was driving for Daily Express, Inc., of Carlisle, Pa. His log book shows he had stopped for lunch in Pittsburgh.

Apollo 10 All Ready To Start Moon Orbit

Aims To Set Up Landing During July

Most Hazardous Part Of Mission Comes Thursday

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Speeding toward the clutch of lunar gravity, the Apollo 10 astronauts bore down on the moon today—ready to blast themselves into a circular orbit 69 miles above its cratered surface.

The climactic moment comes when the astronauts trigger their spaceship engine to steer Apollo 10 into its orbital path.

The firing, behind the moon and out of range of earth stations, will start a perilous 2½-day lunar adventure intended to clear the way for two Apollo 11 astronauts to land on the moon in July.

Throughout the night, Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan slept as their tiny ship hurtled through a so-called "twilight zone" in which the gravitational influence of earth and moon is about equal.

At 10:19 a.m. EDT, the moon wins the celestial tug-of-war and Apollo 10 finally in the grip of lunar gravity, passes through an invisible barrier 235,032 miles from earth and 18,339 miles from the moon.

Once across this barrier, Apollo 10's speed increases from about 2,000 to 5,700 miles an hour as it sweeps around the backside of the moon.

For 34 minutes, Apollo 10 will be out of contact with the ground. Mission Control in Houston will not know whether the engine fired until the craft reappears around the edge of the moon.

Stafford, Young and Cernan have the option to cancel ignition if they detect anything wrong. In this case, or if the engine fails, the spaceship would merely swing once around the back of the moon and head back to earth—one of the built-in safety features of the mission.

Hill Battle Called Fine Maneuver

U.S. Commander Says We're Trying To Clean Out Foe

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today that the 10-day battle for 3,000-foot Dong Ap Bia appeared to be "a real fine operation from our point of view."

"We are not fighting for terrain as such," said a spokesman for Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam. "We are going after the enemy. Relative casualties is one way to measure it." They're working on clearing out the enemy."

U.S. spokesmen said the number of North Vietnamese troops killed had risen to 454 as American paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division continued to find bodies in the ruins of bunkers on the mountain overlooking the A Shau Valley.

U.S. casualties also were revised upward, to 46 killed and 308 wounded.

The kill ratio was nearly 10 North Vietnamese to one American, while the ratio in all operations covered by the last two weekly casualty reports has been 7 or 8 enemy killed to one allied soldier.

Except for occasional sniper fire, no action was reported Tuesday night on the mountain near the Laotian border.

In the U.S. Senate Tuesday, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., charged that such operations as the assault on Dong Ap Bia were "both senseless and irresponsible," and that American lives were being "sacrificed for military pride."

"We don't comment on what senators say," said the spokesman for Abrams, then gave the explanation of the operation that in effect was a reply to Kennedy.

The spokesman added that the 101st Airborne was "again fighting the battle of Hue near the border rather than letting the enemy get close to Hue." The assault on Dong Ap Bia was part of Operation Apache Snow. Its purpose is to break up troop and supply concentrations in the A Shau Valley, 30 miles southwest of Hue.

U.S. ARTILLERYMEN continued their barrage today on a hill (background) near the strategic mountain known as "Hamburger Hill" overlooking the A Shau Valley in South Vietnam. Members of the 101st Airborne Division captured the summit of the hill Tuesday after 11 assaults in 10 days that killed or wounded more than 300 U.S. soldiers. (UPI Telephoto)

Flaherty, Tabor Picked In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Peter F. Flaherty, an independent Democrat who challenged voters to overthrow one of the country's last big city political machines, has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of Pittsburgh.

The 45-year-old Flaherty, a youthful-looking candidate who campaigned for change in what he termed outmoded policies, won a surprisingly easy upset victory in Tuesday's primary election over regular democrat Harry A. Kramer.

Thus ends a quarter-century of organization politics engendered by the late "party boss" David Lawrence and lately nutured by Mayor Joseph Barr, who decided not to seek reelection because of failing health.

Flaherty will face Republican John K. Tabor who won the GOP nomination with a lopsided victory over Louis P. Falvo, an independent Republican.

Tabor polled 18,818 votes to 2,053 for Falvo.

Two other Democratic candidates — Ollie C. Perella and David R. Hall—were never a factor in the outcome. Perella polled 1,424 votes, and Hall 1,605 in incomplete returns.

6 More To Direct Traffic At Bridge

An additional force of six men has been hired by the State Road Commission to direct traffic almost around the clock at the West Virginia end of the Newell Bridge to help prevent snarls that developed a week ago today with the closing of the Chester Bridge.

Their salaries paid by the road commission, the first of the men was to go on duty today. Glenn Hall, manager of the bridge, said a man will be on duty from approximately 5 a. m. until the race track traffic clears the span between 11 and midnight.

Hall also made several other announcements about the toll span, which is owned by the Newell Bridge & Railway Co.

THE SPAN was rated in "excellent" condition after a periodic inspection Tuesday by the engineering firm of Modjeski & Masters of Harrisburg.

The company has no intention of raising tolls on the bridge, despite rumors which have circulated widely since the Chester span was closed, Hall said.

The State Road Commission has promised to erect a traffic light at the Newell end of the span to control auto movement in the slack hours early each morning and possibly at intervals on the weekend when no traffic officers are on duty. It may be erected within 30 days.

An additional lane will be provided soon near the bridge approach to allow traffic to continue without serious interruption if it is headed out of Newell toward Chester.

HALL SAID the hiring of the additional men was approved yesterday by an aide in Gov. Arch Moore's office. A retired West Virginia state policeman was to be named to select and train five other men for the duty.

Controlling the traffic on the West Virginia end of the span is expected to help unsnarl jams both on the Chester-Newell

Suspect Nabbed By Police In Robbery Attempt, Theft

The diminuitive blonde "Bonnie"-type charged with an $18 theft and suspected of a robbery attempt in an amateurish East Liverpool foray Monday afternoon didn't get an opportunity to read about her exploits in the newspaper.

She was in jail, thanks to exhaustive and very accurate descriptions of her person and her clothing given police by her two victims.

Police identified the suspect as Leah Carter, 26, of 438 College St., an employe of Waterford Park Race Track.

She was taken into custody early Tuesday afternoon while at E. 4th and College Sts. by Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Charles A. Winters on an affidavit alleging she stole $18 from the purse of Mrs. Bonnie Miller of 2117 St. Clair Ave., a cashier at the Ohio Valley Loan Co. office at 104 E. 6th St.

Opening Date For Airport Now Aug. 16

LISBON — A two - month delay in the anticipated opening of the new Columbiana County Airport was reported at a meeting of the County Airport Authority Tuesday night.

Mosure & Fok of Youngstown, consulting engineers, said the original June 16 date has been postponed until Aug. 16.

The authority authorized Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis and County Engineer Bert Dawson Jr. to complete specifications needed for advertising of bids for a fixed base operator at the airport.

Cardinal Aviation and Richard Savors originally had submitted bids for operating the facility, but they were turned down.

County commissioners Tues would not be available for construction of an administration building and hangers at the field. Apparently such facilities would have to be erected by the operator.

Lengthy discussion was held upon the commissioners' ownership of the airport, the leasing arrangements, size of land to be leased by the operator, subleasing of facilities, the length of the lease and investment return possibilities and risks for the operator.

The Federal Aviation Administration tentatively has approved the bid advertising details. Final action for advertising of bids for the base operator is scheduled by the commissioners Thursday. The bids will be advertised for four weeks, possibly calling for opening of offers late in June or early in July.

There will be a meeting Wednesday, May 21 at 1 p. m. for any lady interested in joining the summer bowling league at Friendly Bowling Lane, East Liverpool.—Ad.

Present Officers Re-Elected For Merchants Association

They are: Charles Averell, chairman; Nelson Hagerty, vice chairman; Richard B. Sant, treasurer, and E. R. Chandler, secretary.

Maurice Rapport, James Locke and Dayton Allen formed the nominating committee.

Another progress report on the merchants' participation in the coming Pottery Festival was given by Thomas Phillips. Festival handbills were distributed for use at the various business establishments.

A discussion was held on traffic conditions in the downtown business area and the congestion resulting from the closing of the Chester Bridge.

A delegation from the association will confer with city officials relative to some type of traffic control.

A spring outing was discussed, but no decision reached.

A special meeting relative to regulations in the "Truth In Lending Bill" as they apply to retail merchants is planned in June. There will be no regular meeting of the association in June or July.

Cincinnati U. Campus Hit By Demonstration

CINCINNATI (AP) — A court order prohibiting further demostrations remained clamped today on the entire 21,000-fulltime student body of the University of Cincinnati hit by a small band of militants Tuesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, a 9 a. m. on-campus rally was called by the local chapters of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the United Black Association (UBA) — two organizations which reportedly led the demonstrations.

Ervin T. Hill, who identified himself as the UBA's central committee chairman, said late Tuesday:

"At 9 a. m., everyone will know what I'm going to do."

A spokesma for the city solicitor's office said university officials early Tuesday evening requested his office prepare the petition.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said the defendant was arrested by his department Tuesday in East Liverpool. He said Tiller had been in Florida.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

Traffic Study Needed

Closing of the Chester Bridge has sent a flood of traffic that is even heavier than ever into the East End, compounding a problem that was critical before the latest development made it well nigh insufferable.

It proves once again the validity of the view held by many on East Liverpool's traffic woes—a bottleneck in one end of the city can cause repercussions in another spot perhaps miles away. Piecemeal solutions won't work, because the very act of correcting the fault at one intersection creates a new problem at another spot.

East Liverpool needs expert traffic planners to take a long view of the whole community, studying the entire picture. It needs a survey that relates every segment of the city with every other segment and then relates the city to the region in which it is situated.

Our hodge-podge pattern of streets presents a real challenge. It also means that no study probably ever will provide an ideal solution. There are built-in problems that go back 100 years or more.

With extension of the Freeway and a new Chester Bridge threatening to impose another change in traffic patterns in the next few years, it's time for somebody in authority to set up a study that will merge the old with the new and send East Liverpool off on the right foot as it enters the new era.

Facing Up To Reality

No one can blame the controversial sports figure for wishing to maintain the structure he was invited to join by the board and administration of 1964.

At the same time, it is obvious to most of the community — and now to the majority of the present board of education — that the multi-responsibilities of McNea and the decision-making powers he wields are not suitable in the present education climate of our school district.

Continuing recommendations from non - East Liverpool observers call for the separation of the two positions to give a better administrative balance in athletics and to ease the intra-school and community frictions which have plagued East Liverpool for some years.

Mr. McNea has proven to be a successful football coach, and both he and East Liverpool gridders, fans and the athletic department treasury have benefitted from his services here.

But evidence of the past year points to problems far deeper and more important than the job responsibilities and salary of one man or two men.

Community relationships with the schools are not what they should be for the best interests of all 5,600 girls and boys, and Mr. McNea must recognize the realities with which the board of education has now come to grips.

A decision has been made by the board within the area of basic authority assigned to it by the voters of the school district. Debates and letter campaigns can serve little purpose unless new evidence can be demonstrated to have real meaning to the issues involved.

Parents, teachers and others concerned for the welfare of the schools have had their fill of charges, counter-charges, accusations, talk without thought, words without wisdom. The objective now is to upgrade the general level of education in East Liverpool with cooperative backing, and to strive for a sports program which can be successful without strife.

Keep The Streets Clean

Once upon a time, many years ago, City Council enacted a long, intricate law prohibiting some sort of shenanigans and then found all its time had been wasted.

There was no penalty clause spelling out fines and jail terms for violators. The "law," if that's what it was, could be violated with impunity.

Three councilmen propose almost the same sort of treatment for the ordinance that bans parking in areas where the city street sweeper is scheduled to work. The penalty for failure to move a car now is $10. These councilmen, perhaps yielding to pressure from a few disgruntled constituents, want to present legislation that would reduce the fine to $1.

Such a token slap on the wrist probably would cause a general breakdown in the city's sweeping program, which is far from perfect under present circumstances. But, as the Council opponents and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey pointed out, the sweeper can do an adequate job only if the pavement is clear of autos.

The present $10 penalty may be considered by some a little high. But there's no reason why the opponents and the proponents of the legislation cannot work out a sensible compromise—a $5 fine, say.

The councilmen who opposed reducing the fine said that a householder would not go outside to move a forgotten auto into the garage to save $1. That's probably true, but most of us would make a trip outside to save a $5 bill.

Much governmental process is based on compromise. It seems to apply in this case.

Hoods Move In With Mace

It didn't take hoods long to move in on advantages presented by chemical sprays manufactured for civilian self defense and used by law enforcement personnel.

Chemical Mace, a disabling gas, or a similar mixture was used in the $350,000 robbery of a Brooklyn department store.

IN THREE RECENT robberies in Maryland and one in Delaware, thugs have used chemical irritants on their victims.

The same tactic was employed in the robbery of a New York City bar, a Chicago bus driver and a Washington bank.

Indications are that its use by criminals will become more widespread which brings up interesting questions: Should chemical sprays be regulated by the government and, if so, how?

A Senate commerce subcommittee is now looking into the chemical spray issue to determine if the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) should administer the manufacture and sale of the products under the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act.

Another angle getting attention from the subcommittee is whether the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) should take action against some of the spray manufacturers for false advertising. Ads usually stress that effects are temporary and harmless.

Yet a San Francisco opthalmologist has reported eight cases of post-Mace eye damage.

Congress is going to get involved in the issue but to what extent remains to be seen.

THE PUBLIC WILL NOT take kindly to regulations that keep it from being able to buy the same weapons available to criminals.

Neither does Congress relish the idea of all-out chemical war in the streets.

It seems the inventiveness of man has created another product in a good cause that has been perverted into a means of evildoing.

It's an old story.

Congressional action may move in the direction of limitation or control but it will have little effect on the situation because the root of the problem is mankind's capacity for wrongdoing.

Confidence Lag Is Showing

The marked mistrust of the government among American citizens cannot be a source of amazement for those who read news stories daily.

Reports have become routine through the years on shady conduct by officials and quasi-officials, favors granted here and there, conflict of interest cases, department heads resigning to take positions with companies they have been dealing with and military men accepting jobs with companies that have cashed in on defense contracts.

RIGHT NOW the Small Business Administration (SBA) is trying to collect a delinquent $100,000 loan made in North Bay Village, Fla., involving an apartment house linked to the Mafia.

Even without the Mafia connection, the whole deal should have smelled bad to SBA people from the start.

The money was loaned to a developer who was being sued by the government for $52,763 in back taxes, who had been involved in a swindling deal and who still carried a $2,050,000 mortgage on the apartment property at the time of the loan.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) time and again turns up cases in which firms are taking the government for a financial ride—often without an attempt to disguise the action.

Americans aren't naive. They know when so much money is floating around, some people are going to yield to temptation and try to grab a piece of it.

WHAT THEY ARE justifiably angry about is the way a lax attitude on the part of government officials encourages financial shenanigans and little, if any, attempt is made to correct procedures to reduce the chances for chicanery.

We don't believe it is too much to ask of government bureaucrats to apply common sense and good business practices in their jobs and to take note of recommendations from those investigating irregulariteis.

This is the key to restoring the lagging confidence of a disillusioned segment of the American people.

Hope In Evolution?

A Harvard zoologist has come to the conclusion that mankind can undergo substantial and important evolution changes within 10 generations or less.

Accustomed to thinking of evolutionary change in terms of thousands and millions of years, this statement must come as a shock to most of us.

But Edwrd O. Wilson can point to laboratory experiments to support his contention that there is "every justifiction from both genetic theory and experiments on animal species to suppose that rapid behavioral evolution is at least possible in man."

Mr. Wilson's position is looked on as an attack on several recent best-selling books which advance the belief that man's development is severely limited and perhaps permanently aggressive because of his animal origins.

The Harvard zoologist is of the opinion that such inherited traits as a tendency toward aggression might change, depending on the needs and pressures felt by man, over a period of some 300 years.

If Mr. Wilson is right and evolution could tend to reduce or eliminate mankind's aggressive tendencies in 10 generations the world's scientists would do well to give top priority to research on this subject.

'Formidable, Eh?'

VICTOR RIESEL

Saga Of Louis Wolfson

WASHINGTON — It was Louis Wolfson's thing to pad softly through the maze of mobs, and to know the right labor leader at the right time, and to make the proper connection at that tricky moment when it was most needed.

Victor Riesel

This led him to some eerie characters, among whom, in this drama, is the man in a maximum security prison, Jimmy Hoffa — envying his friend Wolfson's durance in what is practically a Florida rest farm.

Louis Wolfson has known Jimmy Hoffa and other Teamsters and their fellow travelers a long time. It is sad, then, that sophisticated counselor and justice, Abe Fortas, should have chosen Louis Wolfson for social companionship in Washington's inner world. As justice, Mr. Fortas would have had to rule on Jimmy Hoffa's final appeal. His alternative would have been to disqualify himself. And that he could not have explained.

WHATEVER THE OTHER accusations, no one will accuse Mr. Fortas of naivete. So he could only plead ignorance of Louis Wolfson's connection — which has been dinner conversation wherever the town's inner circle has been squared.

Mr. Wolfson's relations with the seamier of Teamsters goes back to those ancient days when university students ate goldfish or tired to set records by competing over the number who could jam into a phone booth.

The relationship goes back to the days Jimmy Hoffa was a Teamsters vice president plotting a court coup against blue-eyed Dave Beck, Brotherhood president.

In the mid-'50s, Louis Wolfson was doing business at his favorite stand. He began raiding Montgomery Ward. There was one whale of a proxy fight. He had a small Zurich bank buy $1.5 million worth of Ward stock. And then his Teamsters connection came in handy. "Jimmy," drawn to the magnate by his money, got the pension and welfare fund to buy $2 million worth of shares. These were pledged to Mr. Wolfson.

Mr. Hoffa pressured other Teamster divisions to get into the market and do likewise. In the end, the late stonewall Sewell Avery, company president, won. From there, Mr. Wolfson turned to similar operations in American Motor stock.

It must have been a compulsion. This wealthy man already controlled, for example, Merritt, Chapman and Scott, a general contractor which built such "things" as the Baltimore harbor tunnel and a navy yard and some submarines.

THERE IS SWORN testimony that someone in this company had "connections." The Hoffa coterie turns up all over Mr. Wolfson's tracks.

They also did well with commissions on supplies sold to Mr. Wolfson's enterprises — sometimes as high as 50 per cent. It all rolled along very merrily until the incorruptible ran into the hitherto immovable man.

Crusading U.S. Attorney (for the Southern District of New York) Robert Morgenthau xrayed Mr. Wolfen's operations.

Not only did prosecutor Morgenthau nail Mr. Wolfson for dealing in unregistered securities, but also perjury and obstruction of justice in connection with Merritt, Chapman and Scott securities transactions. Louis Wolfson got a year on the first conviction (which he's now serving) and 18 months on the latter charges — now on appeal.

That's financial history covering many years. Presumably, it is a matter of taste whether or not one chooses to counsel a Wolfson on social problems.

BUT IT DOES SEEM bad taste and the gridning of the ethic of justice to sit on the supreme bench and in off hours stride alongside Mr. Wolfson — when every insider is aware that this is the kind of thing which is peddled in Jimmy Hoffa's circles. Friendship with the intimate of any judge, and much more, a Supreme Court justice, is a very tangible asset among the Neanderthals who work more by innuendo than stiletto. In almost any informed Teamster circle, there are those who smirk and say there are mighty few courts which they can't "reach" — including the Supreme Court.

This is cold grim fact. This is the way they talked. Mr. Fortas might not know this — but lots of Teamsters officials do. As a justice, Mr. Fortas' robes should have been like the gown of Caesar's wife — above the dirt.

Point is that it has long been a loosely allied crowd. The public should know: just who were Mr. Wolfson's old friends, who made the connections, how did he first meet Jimmy Hoffa, why did the Teamsters leader join with Mr. Wolfson in the proxy raid on Montgomery Ward, how long did the relationship last, what did they try to do for each other — and how recently?

Mr. Wolfson has had more connections than a switchboard. Where do they lead?

Remaking High Court

WASHINGTON — With two vacancies on the Supreme Court to be filled and the likelihood of retirement by some of the other justices, it is being said that President Nixon has an opportunity to "remake" the high court.

But experience has proven that, while the nine men who sit on the Supreme Court may have held "conservative" or "liberal" or "moderate" views on public affairs before they were appointed, they often deliver opinions that do not bear out such classifications as specific cases have come before them.

Naturally the President is expected to seek men of ability in the judicial field but, no matter whom he appoints, some members of Congress will believe that he has selected persons of a particular ideology. Again and again, however, justices have not, in their rulings, followed the course predicted at the time they came to the high court.

JUSTICE HUGO BLACK, for instance, was supposed to be an ultra-conservative from the South, but in the many years he has served on the bench he has not attached himself to any one philosophy. The same can be said of other justices—though it is true that there are some who have consistently adhered to the idea that the Supreme Court has the power to rewrite the Constitution.

The biggesst controversy of the last several decades about the Supreme Court arose over criticism of the justices for having "stretched" the Constitution.

It is contended, in defense of their decisions, that they have dealt realistically with the problems of the current era. The argument is made that the founding fathers, in writing the Constitution, could not have foreseen the contingencies that have since arisen and that this permits unprecedented interpretations.

The belief has become widespread, however, that the court has overstepped its bounds, rapticularly in the "desegregation" ruling in 1954 and the subsequent extension of the "equal protection of the laws" clause in the 14th amendment to cases not hitherto considered to come under that provision.

Doubtless the disputes over Supreme Court decisions will continue in the future, though remedies are available for those who say the court has abused its power. Congress can pass a law limiting the appellate jurisdiction of the court. Or a constitutional amendment can be adopted nullifying or modifying any decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

What President Nixon should do, of course, is to pick honest men—individuals of integrity and with a high sense of duty. Justices may be mistaken at times but, if they are thoroughly grounded in the laws of the land and are governed by conscience, the country can expect fair-minded decisions.

Preferably, Mr. Nixon might appoint individual who have actually served on the bench—either in United States district or circuit courts of appeal or in the state supreme courts.

It would be most unfortunate if political or personal considerations in any way entered into the selection of the new justices. There have been many instances in the past when presidents have nominated close friends or political associates.

WHILE SOME SENATORS have already indicated that they are going to interrogate future nominees particularly to make sure there is no "conflict of interest," the truth is that this rarely has proved to be a factor of any consequence in the work of the court.

More and more in recent years justices have been taking large fees for lectures and outside services. Congress has failed to define "good behavior"—the term used in the Constitution as a requirement for the holding of judicial office.

With all the background of the Fortas case, it is likely that a justice will cut himself off from fees or income which might be regarded as inconsistent with his judicial duties as prescribed in the canons of judicial ethics of the American Bar Association.

Traffic Study Needed

Closing of the Chester Bridge has sent a flood of traffic that is even heavier than ever into the East End, compounding a problem that was critical before the latest development made it well nigh insufferable.

It proves once again the validity of the view held by many on East Liverpool's traffic woes—a bottleneck in one end of the city can cause repercussions in another spot perhaps miles away. Piecemeal solutions won't work, because the very act of correcting the fault at one intersection creates a new problem at another spot.

East Liverpool needs expert traffic planners to take a long view of the whole community, studying the entire picture. It needs a survey that relates every segment of the city with every other segment and then relates the city to the region in which it is situated.

Our hodge-podge pattern of streets presents a real challenge. It also means that no study probably ever will provide an ideal solution. There are built-in problems that go back 100 years or more.

With extension of the Freeway and a new Chester Bridge threatening to impose another change in traffic patterns in the next few years, it's time for somebody in authority to set up a study that will merge the old with the new and send East Liverpool off on the right foot as it enters the new era.

Facing Up To Reality

No one can blame the controversial sports figure for wishing to maintain the structure he was invited to join by the board and administration of 1964.

At the same time, it is obvious to most of the community — and now to the majority of the present board of education — that the multi-responsibilities of McNea and the decision-making powers he wields are not suitable in the present education climate of our school district.

Continuing recommendations from non - East Liverpool observers call for the separation of the two positions to give a better administrative balance in athletics and to ease the intra-school and community frictions which have plagued East Liverpool for some years.

Mr. McNea has proven to be a successful football coach, and both he and East Liverpool gridders, fans and the athletic department treasury have benefitted from his services here.

But evidence of the past year points to problems far deeper and more important than the job responsibilities and salary of one man or two men.

Community relationships with the schools are not what they should be for the best interests of all 5,600 girls and boys, and Mr. McNea must recognize the realities with which the board of education has now come to grips.

A decision has been made by the board within the area of basic authority assigned to it by the voters of the school district. Debates and letter campaigns can serve little purpose unless new evidence can be demonstrated to have real meaning to the issues involved.

Parents, teachers and others concerned for the welfare of the schools have had their fill of charges, counter-charges, accusations, talk without thought, words without wisdom. The objective now is to upgrade the general level of education in East Liverpool with cooperative backing, and to strive for a sports program which can be successful without strife.

Keep The Streets Clean

Once upon a time, many years ago, City Council enacted a long, intricate law prohibiting some sort of shenanigans and then found all its time had been wasted.

There was no penalty clause spelling out fines and jail terms for violators. The "law," if that's what it was, could be violated with impunity.

Three councilmen propose almost the same sort of treatment for the ordinance that bans parking in areas where the city street sweeper is scheduled to work. The penalty for failure to move a car now is $10. These councilmen, perhaps yielding to pressure from a few disgruntled constituents, want to present legislation that would reduce the fine to $1.

Such a token slap on the wrist probably would cause a general breakdown in the city's sweeping program, which is far from perfect under present circumstances. But, as the Council opponents and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey pointed out, the sweeper can do an adequate job only if the pavement is clear of autos.

The present $10 penalty may be considered by some a little high. But there's no reason why the opponents and the proponents of the legislation cannot work out a sensible compromise—a $5 fine, say.

The councilmen who opposed reducing the fine said that a householder would not go outside to move a forgotten auto into the garage to save $1. That's probably true, but most of us would make a trip outside to save a $5 bill.

Much governmental process is based on compromise. It seems to apply in this case.

Hoods Move In With Mace

It didn't take hoods long to move in on advantages presented by chemical sprays manufactured for civilian self defense and used by law enforcement personnel.

Chemical Mace, a disabling gas, or a similar mixture was used in the $350,000 robbery of a Brooklyn department store.

IN THREE RECENT robberies in Maryland and one in Delaware, thugs have used chemical irritants on their victims.

Indications are that its use by criminals will become more widespread which brings up interesting questions: Should chemical sprays be regulated by the government and, if so, how?

A Senate commerce subcommittee is now looking into the chemical spray issue to determine if the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) should administer the manufacture and sale of the products under the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act.

Another angle getting attention from the subcommittee is whether the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) should take action against some of the spray manufacturers for false advertising. Ads usually stress that effects are temporary and harmless.

Yet a San Francisco opthalmologist has reported eight cases of post-Mace eye damage.

Congress is going to get involved in the issue but to what extent remains to be seen.

THE PUBLIC WILL NOT take kindly to regulations that keep it from being able to buy the same weapons available to criminals.

Neither does Congress relish the idea of all-out chemical war in the streets.

It seems the inventiveness of man has created another product in a good cause that has been perverted into a means of evildoing.

It's an old story.

Congressional action may move in the direction of limitation or control but it will have little effect on the situation because the root of the problem is mankind's capacity for wrongdoing.

Confidence Lag Is Showing

The marked mistrust of the government among American citizens cannot be a source of amazement for those who read news stories daily.

Reports have become routine through the years on shady conduct by officials and quasi-officials, favors granted here and there, conflict of interest cases, department heads resigning to take positions with companies they have been dealing with and military men accepting jobs with companies that have cashed in on defense contracts.

RIGHT NOW the Small Business Administration (SBA) is trying to collect a delinquent $100,000 loan made in North Bay Village, Fla., involving an apartment house linked to the Mafia.

Even without the Mafia connection, the whole deal should have smelled bad to SBA people from the start.

The money was loaned to a developer who was being sued by the government for $52,763 in back taxes, who had been involved in a swindling deal and who still carried a $2,050,000 mortgage on the apartment property at the time of the loan.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) time and again turns up cases in which firms are taking the government for a financial ride—often without an attempt to disguise the action.

Americans aren't naive. They know when so much money is floating around, some people are going to yield to temptation and try to grab a piece of it.

WHAT THEY ARE justifiably angry about is the way a lax attitude on the part of government officials encourages financial shenanigans and little, if any, attempt is made to correct procedures to reduce the chances for chicanery.

We don't believe it is too much to ask of government bureaucrats to apply common sense and good business practices in their jobs and to take note of recommendations from those investigating irregulariteis.

This is the key to restoring the lagging confidence of a disillusioned segment of the American people.

Fund Plans Advanced For Newlin Memorial

Harry Excell, co - chairman of the committee, said various plans are in the offing, with emphasis on the placement of contribution canisters throughout Columbiana County.

"Many other communities have contacted us and wish to be included in donations for the chapel," he explained.

The committee also is formulating plans for the printing of a souvenir book concerning Pfc. Newlin's life.

Excell said, "Money already has begun to come in from different parts of the county."

Anyone wishing to make donations may forward them to the Wellsville branch of the Potters Bank and Trust Co. in care of the Pfc. Melvin E. Newlin Memorial Fund.

"All contributions are tax deductable, but in order to qualify checks must be made out to 'The American Legion, for the Pfc. Melvin E. Newlin Memorial Fund'," Excell said.

Excell also clarified what he said seems to be a controversial aspect of the project. He emphasized that although the chapel will carry Pfc. Newlin's name, it will commemorate all war veterans of all wars and will be non-denominational and non-sectarian.

The next committee meeting will be June 5, at Post 70 in Wellsville. Architect Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool will introduce artists' conceptions of the proposed structure.

LISBON — The Columbiana County Homemakers Council is participating in Ohio Beautification Week (May 19-23) proclaimed by Gov. James A. Rhodes in the name of the Ohio Extension Homemakers Council.

Mrs. Ann Riedel, county extension agent for home economics, said the council has completed plans to construct a large terraced flower bed of railroad ties at the county fairgrounds entrance gate.

Mrs. Earl Broadbent of East Liverpool RD 4 is chairman of the beautification committee, while Mrs. Dean Forney of Leetonia RD 1 heads a committee assigned to provide the funds.

Mrs. Riedel said Gov. Rhodes' special recognition was the result of interest, concern and effort on the part of 35,000 Ohio homemakers in beautifying their communities.

The women began their crusade with state meetings for local leaders to initiate cleanup and beautification programs. Since then, Mrs. Riedel said, the homemakers have urged development of action programs dealing with the cleanup of trash, litter, junk and solid wastes, removal of dilapidated buildings, repair and painting of buildings and the planting and maintenance of trees, shrubs, evergreens and flowers.

Fund Plans Advanced For Newlin Memorial

Harry Excell, co - chairman of the committee, said various plans are in the offing, with emphasis on the placement of contribution canisters throughout Columbiana County.

"Many other communities have contacted us and wish to be included in donations for the chapel," he explained.

The committee also is formulating plans for the printing of a souvenir book concerning Pfc. Newlin's life.

Excell said, "Money already has begun to come in from different parts of the county."

Anyone wishing to make donations may forward them to the Wellsville branch of the Potters Bank and Trust Co. in care of the Pfc. Melvin E. Newlin Memorial Fund.

"All contributions are tax deductable, but in order to qualify checks must be made out to 'The American Legion, for the Pfc. Melvin E. Newlin Memorial Fund'," Excell said.

Excell also clarified what he said seems to be a controversial aspect of the project. He emphasized that although the chapel will carry Pfc. Newlin's name, it will commemorate all war veterans of all wars and will be non-denominational and non-sectarian.

The next committee meeting will be June 5, at Post 70 in Wellsville. Architect Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool will introduce artists' conceptions of the proposed structure.

Patrol Lists 3 Injured In Area Road Mishaps

A district youth and two New Waterford residents were injured in two of six area traffic mishaps investigated Tuesday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Kenneth Burt, 17, of RD 1 was injured when his car went into a ditch along County Rd. 428 at Calcutta at 8:10 p.m.

Officers said he accelerated his auto when driving out of a service station, lost control and the car went into a ditch. Cited for reckless operation, he was treated at City Hospital for a fractured nose and bruises and abrasions of the hands and leg.

Margurite Rymer, 67, of New Waterford, the driver, and Hala Rymer, 89, of New Waterford, a passenger, were treated at Salem City Hospital after a collision at the intersections of Route 7-14 at 4:10 p.m.

The patrol said the woman, headed north on Route 7, made a left turn into the path of a southbound sedan operated by Francis Martin, 32, of 1649 Holliday St., East Liverpool. There was moderate damage to the woman's station wagon and severe damage to the other auto.

She was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Two drivers were arrested following a collision on Route 644 about three miles north of Route 518.

Robert Gossman, 30, of Salineville RD 3, driving a tractor-trailer rig south, attempted to pass a pickup truck operated by Dayton Day, 70, of Lisbon RD 1 when the latter's vehicle went to the left and they collided.

There was slight damage, officers said. Gossman was charged with use of fictitious license plates and Day was cited for driving left of center.

No one was injured in a collision of two autos at the intersection of County Rd. 421 and Route 7 at 10:15 p.m., the patrol said.

Betty Reed, 24, of 380 S. Market St., East Palestine, headed southeast, halted for a stop sign at the intersection, when Donald Perrin, 59, of Columbiana, headed south on Route 7, made a turn, hitting her car in the side. There was slight damage, officers said.

Two deer were killed in separate mishaps yesterday. A car operated by Sarah Ramsey, 55, of N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, struck a deer on Route 517 just east of Lisbon, and a sedan driven by David Malcom, 30, of Shippingport hit another on Route 30 about two miles north of East Liverpool.

Patrol Lists 3 Injured In Area Road Mishaps

A district youth and two New Waterford residents were injured in two of six area traffic mishaps investigated Tuesday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Kenneth Burt, 17, of RD 1 was injured when his car went into a ditch along County Rd. 428 at Calcutta at 8:10 p.m.

Officers said he accelerated his auto when driving out of a service station, lost control and the car went into a ditch. Cited for reckless operation, he was treated at City Hospital for a fractured nose and bruises and abrasions of the hands and leg.

Margurite Rymer, 67, of New Waterford, the driver, and Hala Rymer, 89, of New Waterford, a passenger, were treated at Salem City Hospital after a collision at the intersections of Route 7-14 at 4:10 p.m.

The patrol said the woman, headed north on Route 7, made a left turn into the path of a southbound sedan operated by Francis Martin, 32, of 1649 Holliday St., East Liverpool. There was moderate damage to the woman's station wagon and severe damage to the other auto.

She was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Two drivers were arrested following a collision on Route 644 about three miles north of Route 518.

Robert Gossman, 30, of Salineville RD 3, driving a tractor-trailer rig south, attempted to pass a pickup truck operated by Dayton Day, 70, of Lisbon RD 1 when the latter's vehicle went to the left and they collided.

There was slight damage, officers said. Gossman was charged with use of fictitious license plates and Day was cited for driving left of center.

No one was injured in a collision of two autos at the intersection of County Rd. 421 and Route 7 at 10:15 p.m., the patrol said.

Betty Reed, 24, of 380 S. Market St., East Palestine, headed southeast, halted for a stop sign at the intersection, when Donald Perrin, 59, of Columbiana, headed south on Route 7, made a turn, hitting her car in the side. There was slight damage, officers said.

Two deer were killed in separate mishaps yesterday. A car operated by Sarah Ramsey, 55, of N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, struck a deer on Route 517 just east of Lisbon, and a sedan driven by David Malcom, 30, of Shippingport hit another on Route 30 about two miles north of East Liverpool.

A. — First rub with a pad of cotton wool. Then cover the pad with a layer of cotton felt well charged with fine jewelers' rouge, and this when rubbed over the glass will not only remove the scratches, but will add luster.

Q. — How can I remove some light scratches from plate glass?

A. — First rub with a pad of cotton wool. Then cover the pad with a layer of cotton felt well charged with fine jewelers' rouge, and this when rubbed over the glass will not only remove the scratches, but will add luster.

ABA Concludes Fortas Violated Ethics Canons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Bar Association's Ethics Committee has concluded that former Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas violated the Canons of Judicial Ethics in his relations with financier Louis E. Wolfson.

The committee based its judgment, released here Tuesday, entirely on the account Fortas gave Chief Justice Earl Warren last week of his acceptance, and eventual return, of a $20,000 fee in 1966 from the Wolfson Family Foundation.

The committee did not solicit any statement from Fortas and he could not be reached for comment on the judgment.

Meanwhile, it was learned the committee divided 5-2 on whether the judgment should be made public while the Justice Department was investigating and while "Fortas might be trying to vindicate himself."

The division was disclosed in a telephone interview by Floyd B. Sperry, a Bismarck, N.D. lawyer. He said the other committee member to oppose a public statement at this point was Charles W. Joiner dean of the Wayne University law school in Detroit.

U.S.-Peru Ties Reported Near Collapse

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Relations between Peru and the United States neared collapse today as the Peruvians announced that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would not be welcome in the country and that U.S. military missions should get out.

The government's action late Tuesday followed Washington's suspension of the sale of arms and munitions to Peru's military government in retaliation for the seizure of American fishing boats off Peru.

President Juan Velasco's regime issued a communique accusing the United States of violating its 1952 military aid pact with Peru and of "placing in danger Pan-American friendship, one of whose objectives is continental security."

Rockefeller, who toured Central America last week, was scheduled to visit Peru May 30-31 on the second leg of his Latin American survey for President Nixon. The Lima government said his visit would be "inopportune," and there was speculation that this would encourage anti-American demonstrations in other countries the New York governor is to visit.

SEATO Backs U.S., Saigon Peace Plans

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The SEATO allies today endorsed Vietnam peace proposals advanced by the United States and South Vietnam and called on the Communist side in the Paris peace talks to "respond constructively."

Ending their annual meeting, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Council of Foreign Ministers also warned that Communist "aggression, infiltration and terrorism" still threaten the whole area of Southeast Asia. It declared "this aggression must not be allowed to succeed."

The council's final communique expressed "grave concern" at North Vietnamese military operations in Laos and North Vietnam's movement of troops and supplies through Laos to South Vietnam and to support Red insurgency in Thailand.

The communique ignored assurances brought by Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the United States will continue to fulfill its security obligations to SEATO and will not abandon Southeast Asia. SEATO diplomats said this was normal—that the council's communiques are traditionally silent on the issues which concern the foreign ministers most.

Also igored was the fact that SEATO is a time-scarred organization about whose future some of the members are worried.

Bridge

Rd. and on the East Liverpool approaches, he said.

Hall said the first man of the new traffic force was to begin duty at 10 this morning.

The Harrisburg engineering firm gave the bridge company an informal report yesterday that the span is in "excellent" condition. It is scheduled to file a written report shortly.

The inspection showed that the span needs "only very minor repairs and some spot painting," Hall related. The engineers said the bridge is "safe and well able to handle all the auto traffic," he added.

THE MANAGER emphasized that the company will continue to enforce strictly the 10 - ton weight limit on the span. Turning away heavier vehicles will allow the span to handle auto traffic more readily, he said.

A traffic engineer of the road commission who inspected the area yesterday confirmed that authority has been granted to install a traffic signal at the West Virginia end of the span. Installation was promised "as soon as possible," possibly within 30 days. The signal is intended to control traffic only in the slack hours when no officer is on duty.

"The rumors that the company intends to raise the toll are not true," Hall said. "The 10-cent charge will remain. No change is anticipated."

Hall said the span is handling approximately 12,000 autos daily, compared with 3,000 to 4,000 prior to the closing of the Chester span.

HALL ALSO related details of the plans for installation of the additional lane to help speed traffic. It is intended for use of motorists proceeding from Newell to Chester. Some slight grading will be required, as well as some patching on the berm, before the additional lane can go into use.

Chester - bound traffic from Newell will be allowed to flow uninterruptedly except when cars moving off the span are turning left toward Chester, he said. The two existing lanes will remain as at present.

Traffic conditions have become "a little better each day" since the heavy load was dumped on the Newell span, Hall commented. The fact that virtually all drivers have the exact change ready as they approach the toll house is one of the biggest factors, he said.

Water Rate Boost OK'd At Wellsville

A resolution increasing the minimum water rates from $4 to $6 was approved on the third reading by Wellsville Council Tuesday night by a four to one vote.

Councilman Robert Taggart cast the dissenting vote, with Councilman Russell Keefer, Glenn Mathess, Nunzio Lombardozzi and Jack Call voting for the rate boost.

Councilmen Paul Todd and James Phillips were absent.

Because there was not a three - fourths majority in favor of the measure, the increase will not go into effect for 30 days. There will be no increase in sewage rates, officials said.

Approval was given first reading of a resolution authorizing Safety Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for a new police cruiser, a new garbage packer truck and a pickup truck for the sewage disposal department.

Another resolution calling for the issuance of a note by the City in anticipation of the collection of revenue was passed on first reading with no dissenting votes. Transfer of $15,000 not exceeding half of the anticipated revenue into the general fund will be used for paying wages and salaries and other obligations, and any excess will be used for retirement of the note at maturity. A second reading of the resolution was to be heard today at 4 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

A recommendation of the street and light committee presented by Lombardozzi, chairman, to permit Dr. Frank Rivelle to cut the curb on Main and 7th Sts. under the supervision of the safety service director was passed.

Baldasare was authorized to paint the curb on 9th and Commerce Sts. yellow on a trial basis.

Suspect

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Pauline Walton of Glenmoor, manager of the Western Union office on Market St., both told officers the woman was blonde, between 25 and 30 and wearing a blue blouse, blue slacks and a blue headband. Mrs. Walton said the woman attempted to hold up the telegraph office by pretending she had a gun, but the manager bluffed her out by asking to see the gun.

Arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the theft charge signed by Mrs. Miller, the woman was granted a continuance until Friday. Freed yesterday after posting a $300 bond, she is represented by George A. Aronson.

Capt. Mooney said police received information that a woman answering the suspect's description resided at 438 College St. While he and Officer Winters were en route to the address, they spotted the woman on the street, recognizing her by the distinctive clothing.

Mrs. Miller told officers $18 was taken from her purse by a woman visitor who asked to use the restroom in the loan firm's office. Mrs. Walton said a woman handed her note beginning "I have a gun. . . ." and attempted to obtain money from the telegraph office. When she called the would-be bandit's bluff, the woman apologized and walked out of the office, she said.

Streets

terial and 245,000 square yards of seal-coating.

The city splits the cost of the original surfacing with property-owners, 50-50, and also pays for paving of intersections. The seal - coating is applied without cost to property-owners.

Vodrey said every street in East Liverpool which ever has been given a low-cost surface will be seal-coated in the 1969 program. That's because the 1968 program was skipped for lack of funds. The setup called for 50 per cent of the streets to be seal-coated in one year and the other half to be seal-coated the following year.

Because the program was skipped in 1968, every low-cost surfaced street will be given a seal-coat this year, he explained. The list of streets to be seal-coated covers 10 sheets of legal size typewriter paper.

Vodrey said the administration and Council expect to "hold the line" on householders' costs in the surfacing program, although the price of the material has gone up slightly in the last couple of years. The rule - of - thumb for computing the price is one cent per square foot of surface.

To determine the price he would be charged for surfacing, the householder multiples the frontage of his lot by a figure representing the width of the street. For instance, for a 30-foot lot fronting on a street 15 feet wide, the cost would be computed at 30 multiplied by 15, or $4.50. The $4.50 would apply to properties on each side of the street. The city would pay an equal amount, plus the cost of the intersections.

Applications for the surfacing program may be obtained at the director's office. Vodrey said the city will not undertake to surface any stretch less than a block in length because of the expense in moving equipment from site to site.

Neighborhood groups usually obtain a petition and an estimate of the cost of the surfacing. Then a spokesman circulates the petition, obtains signatures and receives payment from each property - owner. He delivers the petition and the payment to City Hall.

If groups contemplating an improvement will contact City Hall, an employe will be sent to check the size of the stretch and give an estimate of the cost, based on foot frontage, the director said.

Payment for the improvement must accompany the petition. The city cannot accept cash or personal checks — only certified checks — as the money is paid over direct to the contractor, Vodrey explained.

Question-And-Answer Form

Basic Outline Of Nixon Draft Reform Plan Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plan to reform the draft is intended, in part, to make the Selective Service system more predictable and equitable. But it won't make it less complicated.

Q—What's Nixon trying to accomplish?

A—He wants to reduce uncertainty and permit draft-age men to plan their futures sooner and more confidently.

Q—Why can't they plan that way now?

A—They are subject to the draft at any time during a 7-period year between the ages of 19 and 26. If they ever have a deferment, their liability is extended to age 35.

Q—How would Nixon's plan change that?

A—It would assign each man a specific year, at age 19 to 20, when he is most likely to be drafted and tell him in advance how far down the list he stands. His chances of induction would decrease each year after that.

Q—Can the President do that now?

A—Yes and no. He has legal authority now to reduce the draftable age group from the present 19-to-26 range, down to a one-year range at age 19 or 20. But the law requires that within the designated draft-age group, the oldest must be drafted first. Nixon is asking Congress for an amendment to the draft law so he can change that system.

Q—What's wrong with taking the oldest first?

A—In a one-year draft pool it would mean that those with the earliest birthdays would always be the first drafted, and those with late birthdays would be the last to go.

Q—How would Nixon solve that problem?

A—He would have draftees in each year selected by a type of lottery. First the days of the year would be scrambled into a random order and the draft-eligible men would be arranged in the same order by matching their birthdays with the scrambled calendar.

Those sharing the same birthday would be further distributed by scrambling the alphabet and matching it to the initials of their last names.

The result—scrambled first by birthdays, then by alphabet—would establish a clear sequence of who goes first, second, third, and so on.

Q—How would the chance of induction decrease in later ytars?

A—The President didn't say specifically. But a White House aide said it probably would mean that those past their "prime year" would not be drafted unless and until those still in a "prime year" had all been inducted.

Q—Could a man still obtain a deferment or an exemption?

A—Yes. But when it expired, would re-enter the draft pool at the same position he originally held in his age-group's sequence of call.

Q—How can you tell which is your "prime year"?

A—A "selective service year" would be established, depending when Congress authorizes the plan. Those men who are 19 years old when each "selective service year" begins would be the "prime" draft group.

Thus, their period of vulnerability would extend from some time after their 19th birthdays to exactly a year later. As their "prime year" ends, these men would enter a less-vulnerable category and a new group of 19-year-olds would become "prime" for a year.

Q—How would men already draft-eligible between 19 and 26 be divided up?

A—They wouldn't be. They would become—all of them—the first "prime" group in the first selective service year, and would move as a group into less-prime categories in succeeding years.

Q—Could college students still be deferred?

A—Yes, for undergraduate study, at the end of which they would again become draft-vulnerable.

Q—How about graduate students?

A—Deferments now are permitted for graduate study only to medical and ministerial students. Nixon would leave it that way, but would guarantee that a graduate student who is drafted be permitted to finish out his current academic year.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Last week Johnny Boehlman, a Manhattan grocer, lost his billfold.

He placed an ad in the Manhattan Mercury's lost and found department. Three days later he had his billfold back, contents intact.

The finder had clipped the want ad from the paper, taped it to the billfold and dropped the billfold in a mailbox. The mailman delivered it to the store, apparently getting the address from the identification card in the wallet.

Water Rate Boost OK'd At Wellsville

A resolution increasing the minimum water rates from $4 to $6 was approved on the third reading by Wellsville Council Tuesday night by a four to one vote.

Councilman Robert Taggart cast the dissenting vote, with Councilman Russell Keefer, Glenn Mathess, Nunzio Lombardozzi and Jack Call voting for the rate boost.

Councilmen Paul Todd and James Phillips were absent.

Because there was not a three - fourths majority in favor of the measure, the increase will not go into effect for 30 days. There will be no increase in sewage rates, officials said.

Approval was given first reading of a resolution authorizing Safety Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for a new police cruiser, a new garbage packer truck and a pickup truck for the sewage disposal department.

Another resolution calling for the issuance of a note by the City in anticipation of the collection of revenue was passed on first reading with no dissenting votes. Transfer of $15,000 not exceeding half of the anticipated revenue into the general fund will be used for paying wages and salaries and other obligations, and any excess will be used for retirement of the note at maturity. A second reading of the resolution was to be heard today at 4 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

A recommendation of the street and light committee presented by Lombardozzi, chairman, to permit Dr. Frank Rivelle to cut the curb on Main and 7th Sts. under the supervision of the safety service director was passed.

Baldasare was authorized to paint the curb on 9th and Commerce Sts. yellow on a trial basis.

terial and 245,000 square yards of seal-coating.

The city splits the cost of the original surfacing with property-owners, 50-50, and also pays for paving of intersections. The seal - coating is applied without cost to property-owners.

Vodrey said every street in East Liverpool which ever has been given a low-cost surface will be seal-coated in the 1969 program. That's because the 1968 program was skipped for lack of funds. The setup called for 50 per cent of the streets to be seal-coated in one year and the other half to be seal-coated the following year.

Because the program was skipped in 1968, every low-cost surfaced street will be given a seal-coat this year, he explained. The list of streets to be seal-coated covers 10 sheets of legal size typewriter paper.

Vodrey said the administration and Council expect to "hold the line" on householders' costs in the surfacing program, although the price of the material has gone up slightly in the last couple of years. The rule - of - thumb for computing the price is one cent per square foot of surface.

To determine the price he would be charged for surfacing, the householder multiples the frontage of his lot by a figure representing the width of the street. For instance, for a 30-foot lot fronting on a street 15 feet wide, the cost would be computed at 30 multiplied by 15, or $4.50. The $4.50 would apply to properties on each side of the street. The city would pay an equal amount, plus the cost of the intersections.

Applications for the surfacing program may be obtained at the director's office. Vodrey said the city will not undertake to surface any stretch less than a block in length because of the expense in moving equipment from site to site.

Neighborhood groups usually obtain a petition and an estimate of the cost of the surfacing. Then a spokesman circulates the petition, obtains signatures and receives payment from each property - owner. He delivers the petition and the payment to City Hall.

If groups contemplating an improvement will contact City Hall, an employe will be sent to check the size of the stretch and give an estimate of the cost, based on foot frontage, the director said.

Payment for the improvement must accompany the petition. The city cannot accept cash or personal checks — only certified checks — as the money is paid over direct to the contractor, Vodrey explained.

U.S.-Peru Ties Reported Near Collapse

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Relations between Peru and the United States neared collapse today as the Peruvians announced that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would not be welcome in the country and that U.S. military missions should get out.

The government's action late Tuesday followed Washington's suspension of the sale of arms and munitions to Peru's military government in retaliation for the seizure of American fishing boats off Peru.

President Juan Velasco's regime issued a communique accusing the United States of violating its 1952 military aid pact with Peru and of "placing in danger Pan-American friendship, one of whose objectives is continental security."

Rockefeller, who toured Central America last week, was scheduled to visit Peru May 30-31 on the second leg of his Latin American survey for President Nixon. The Lima government said his visit would be "inopportune," and there was speculation that this would encourage anti-American demonstrations in other countries the New York governor is to visit.

SEATO Backs U.S., Saigon Peace Plans

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The SEATO allies today endorsed Vietnam peace proposals advanced by the United States and South Vietnam and called on the Communist side in the Paris peace talks to "respond constructively."

Ending their annual meeting, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Council of Foreign Ministers also warned that Communist "aggression, infiltration and terrorism" still threaten the whole area of Southeast Asia. It declared "this aggression must not be allowed to succeed."

The council's final communique expressed "grave concern" at North Vietnamese military operations in Laos and North Vietnam's movement of troops and supplies through Laos to South Vietnam and to support Red insurgency in Thailand.

The communique ignored assurances brought by Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the United States will continue to fulfill its security obligations to SEATO and will not abandon Southeast Asia. SEATO diplomats said this was normal—that the council's communiques are traditionally silent on the issues which concern the foreign ministers most.

Also igored was the fact that SEATO is a time-scarred organization about whose future some of the members are worried.

Bridge

Rd. and on the East Liverpool approaches, he said.

Hall said the first man of the new traffic force was to begin duty at 10 this morning.

The Harrisburg engineering firm gave the bridge company an informal report yesterday that the span is in "excellent" condition. It is scheduled to file a written report shortly.

The inspection showed that the span needs "only very minor repairs and some spot painting," Hall related. The engineers said the bridge is "safe and well able to handle all the auto traffic," he added.

THE MANAGER emphasized that the company will continue to enforce strictly the 10 - ton weight limit on the span. Turning away heavier vehicles will allow the span to handle auto traffic more readily, he said.

A traffic engineer of the road commission who inspected the area yesterday confirmed that authority has been granted to install a traffic signal at the West Virginia end of the span. Installation was promised "as soon as possible," possibly within 30 days. The signal is intended to control traffic only in the slack hours when no officer is on duty.

"The rumors that the company intends to raise the toll are not true," Hall said. "The 10-cent charge will remain. No change is anticipated."

Hall said the span is handling approximately 12,000 autos daily, compared with 3,000 to 4,000 prior to the closing of the Chester span.

HALL ALSO related details of the plans for installation of the additional lane to help speed traffic. It is intended for use of motorists proceeding from Newell to Chester. Some slight grading will be required, as well as some patching on the berm, before the additional lane can go into use.

Chester - bound traffic from Newell will be allowed to flow uninterruptedly except when cars moving off the span are turning left toward Chester, he said. The two existing lanes will remain as at present.

Traffic conditions have become "a little better each day" since the heavy load was dumped on the Newell span, Hall commented. The fact that virtually all drivers have the exact change ready as they approach the toll house is one of the biggest factors, he said.

Suspect

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Pauline Walton of Glenmoor, manager of the Western Union office on Market St., both told officers the woman was blonde, between 25 and 30 and wearing a blue blouse, blue slacks and a blue headband. Mrs. Walton said the woman attempted to hold up the telegraph office by pretending she had a gun, but the manager bluffed her out by asking to see the gun.

Arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the theft charge signed by Mrs. Miller, the woman was granted a continuance until Friday. Freed yesterday after posting a $300 bond, she is represented by George A. Aronson.

Capt. Mooney said police received information that a woman answering the suspect's description resided at 438 College St. While he and Officer Winters were en route to the address, they spotted the woman on the street, recognizing her by the distinctive clothing.

Mrs. Miller told officers $18 was taken from her purse by a woman visitor who asked to use the restroom in the loan firm's office. Mrs. Walton said a woman handed her note beginning "I have a gun. . . ." and attempted to obtain money from the telegraph office. When she called the would-be bandit's bluff, the woman apologized and walked out of the office, she said.

Question-And-Answer Form

Basic Outline Of Nixon Draft Reform Plan Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plan to reform the draft is intended, in part, to make the Selective Service system more predictable and equitable. But it won't make it less complicated.

Q—What's Nixon trying to accomplish?

A—He wants to reduce uncertainty and permit draft-age men to plan their futures sooner and more confidently.

Q—Why can't they plan that way now?

A—They are subject to the draft at any time during a 7-period year between the ages of 19 and 26. If they ever have a deferment, their liability is extended to age 35.

Q—How would Nixon's plan change that?

A—It would assign each man a specific year, at age 19 to 20, when he is most likely to be drafted and tell him in advance how far down the list he stands. His chances of induction would decrease each year after that.

Q—Can the President do that now?

A—Yes and no. He has legal authority now to reduce the draftable age group from the present 19-to-26 range, down to a one-year range at age 19 or 20. But the law requires that within the designated draft-age group, the oldest must be drafted first. Nixon is asking Congress for an amendment to the draft law so he can change that system.

Q—What's wrong with taking the oldest first?

A—In a one-year draft pool it would mean that those with the earliest birthdays would always be the first drafted, and those with late birthdays would be the last to go.

Q—How would Nixon solve that problem?

A—He would have draftees in each year selected by a type of lottery. First the days of the year would be scrambled into a random order and the draft-eligible men would be arranged in the same order by matching their birthdays with the scrambled calendar.

Those sharing the same birthday would be further distributed by scrambling the alphabet and matching it to the initials of their last names.

The result—scrambled first by birthdays, then by alphabet—would establish a clear sequence of who goes first, second, third, and so on.

Q—How would the chance of induction decrease in later ytars?

A—The President didn't say specifically. But a White House aide said it probably would mean that those past their "prime year" would not be drafted unless and until those still in a "prime year" had all been inducted.

Q—Could a man still obtain a deferment or an exemption?

A—Yes. But when it expired, would re-enter the draft pool at the same position he originally held in his age-group's sequence of call.

Q—How can you tell which is your "prime year"?

A—A "selective service year" would be established, depending when Congress authorizes the plan. Those men who are 19 years old when each "selective service year" begins would be the "prime" draft group.

Thus, their period of vulnerability would extend from some time after their 19th birthdays to exactly a year later. As their "prime year" ends, these men would enter a less-vulnerable category and a new group of 19-year-olds would become "prime" for a year.

Q—How would men already draft-eligible between 19 and 26 be divided up?

A—They wouldn't be. They would become—all of them—the first "prime" group in the first selective service year, and would move as a group into less-prime categories in succeeding years.

Q—Could college students still be deferred?

A—Yes, for undergraduate study, at the end of which they would again become draft-vulnerable.

Q—How about graduate students?

A—Deferments now are permitted for graduate study only to medical and ministerial students. Nixon would leave it that way, but would guarantee that a graduate student who is drafted be permitted to finish out his current academic year.

Appeal Is Dismissed In Salem Zoning Rift

LISBON — An appeal filed by Jack L. Haldeman of 218 E. 8th St., Salem, on behalf of neighbors opposed to a commercial building addition was dismissed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court at the defendant's costs.

Haldeman's case was against the Salem City Zoning Board and Gordon Bros., Inc., of 776 N. Ellsworth.

He appealed from the board's Feb. 3 decision giving Gordon Bros. permission to construct a 65-by-68-foot, one - story building to the east of its existing plant.

Haldeman contended the decision pemitted further extension of the commercial plant and parking area into R-1 and R-2 limited residential areas contrary to the zoning ordinance.

Four Are Fined For Smashing Of Area Mailboxes

LISBON — Four Toronto residents were fined $50 each Tuesday in Juvenile Court for smashing mailboxes the night of May 12 in the Clarkson area.

Judge Louis Tobin also ordered the four to pay $5 each toward the damages.

John W. Grauber, 22; Charles W. Allen Jr. and Kenneth G. Cooper, both 18, and a 17-year-old companion admitted charges they maliciously destroyed two mailboxes, the property of Mrs. Donovan Henderson of the Sprucevale - Clarkson Rd. and Mrs. David L. Gilbert of the Clarkson - Pancake Rd.

Judge Tobin suspended the drivers' licenses of the three adults for three months and gave them suspended two-month jail sentences on condition they stay out of Columbiana County for the next six months.

The judge made the juvenile a ward of the court and returned him to his parents. The boy is not to apply for a driver's license for the next three months nor ride in any car except with his parents during the same period.

Defeat Looms On Pa. Judge Selection Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to alter the method of picking statewide judges appeared headed for defeat today on the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary election.

With 9,124 of 9,504 Pennsylvania precincts reporting, the vote on the referendum was 580,781 in favor and 590,534 against. Most of the missing precincts were in areas where the question was running behind.

Three of the longest palindromes in the English language (words which read the same backward as forward) are the seven - letter "deified," "reviver" and "rotator."

Defendant Fails To Report For Start Of Trial

LISBON — Gary L. Lee, 24, of Shadyside, East Liverpool RD 1, failed to appear for trial this morning in Common Pleas Court on a charge of burglary.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard continued the case until May 29, and directed the defendant's bondsman to have him in court.

Lee pleaded not guilty Feb. 5, 1968, and has been out on $1,000 bond since May last year. The case was delayed because one of the state's witnesses was in prison in Texas.

Appeal Is Dismissed In Salem Zoning Rift

LISBON — An appeal filed by Jack L. Haldeman of 218 E. 8th St., Salem, on behalf of neighbors opposed to a commercial building addition was dismissed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court at the defendant's costs.

He appealed from the board's Feb. 3 decision giving Gordon Bros. permission to construct a 65-by-68-foot, one - story building to the east of its existing plant.

Pirates Snap Loss Streak

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two years ago, the only thing about to stop Kenny Holtzman was the the U.S. Army. But that was two years ago.

National League hitters want to know what will stop him now, because it certainly hasn't been them.

The 23-year-old hurler offered little answer to the question Tuesday night as he pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 7-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, raising his record to 7-1 with his third straight shutout.

If this keeps up, people will begin comparing him again to Sandy Koufax. That's the way it was in 1967 when this nice-looking left-handed Jewish boy with the blazing fast ball rolled up a 9-0 record and had the Cubs fighting for a pennant until the Army cut short his season.

Without Holtzman, the Cubs finished second to St. Louis that year. But the army is out of the way now and Holtzman and the Cubs are once again on their way.

Holtzman was only one of four NL pitchers who had the hitters standing at attention Tuesday night as Bob Gibson pitched St. Louis by San Francisco 3-0, Tony Clonngeir's two-hitter sparked Cncinnati to a 4-0 triumph over Phladeilpha and Larry Dierker turned in a four-htter in Houston's 5-0 decision over Montreal.

Pittsburgh beat San Diego 6-3 in the only non-shutout, with the New York Mets and Atlanta taking the day off.

Holtzman, a $65,000 bonus baby who had an 11-16 record in his rookie year in 1966 and an 11-14 mark with only six complete games last year, had some problems with his control —he walked five but had the Dodgers toeing the line when it counted.

He yielded only five hits, struck out seven and stranded eight runners as he turned in his fourth whitewash of the season and ran his scoreless inning string to 33.

Don Sutton, 4-4, dueled him through five scoreless innings before his defense started him to his 12th consecutive lifetime loss without a victory against Chicago.

Ron Santo started his downfall in the sixth inning with a two-out single. Ernie Banks doubled and both scored on errors by Bill Sudakis and Wes Parker.

Billy Williams drove out Sutton in the next inning with a two-run double before Banks and Randy Hundley connected for their sixth homers in the eighth.

The victory retained Chicago's six-game lead over Pittsburgh in the East Division and increased it to 6½ over the Mets.

Gibson, 5-2, kept St. Louis seven back with a four-hitter as the troubled Cardinals matched their longest winning streak of the year—three.

Clonnger, 2-5, allowed only a double to Mike Ryan in the third inning and a bunt sngle by Larry Hisle in the sixth as he didn't let a runner past second base.

Tommy Helms' squeeze bunt after Johnny Bench doubled brought in the first run against Rick Wise, 4-3, in the fifth and Bobby Tolan singled in one run and Tony Perez hit his ninth homer for two more in a three-run sixth.

Denis Menke singled in one of two unearned runs in the first inning and tripled home two runs in the third to help Dierker breeze to his sixth victory against four defeats. Montreal has lost five in a row.

Willie Stargell singled in a run in the first inning and then started a decisive two out, four-run burst in the fourth with a single for Pittsburgh, which ended a five-game winless streak. Manny Sangullen and Fred Patek tripled in runs in the inning and Bill Mazeroski and winner Jim Bunning, 3-4, singled in runs.

Beaver Local Surprises Columbiana

Beaver Local upset Columbiana 171-172 in a golf match at the East Liverpool Country Club yesterday.

Rick Metz of the Beavers was medalist, shooting a par 36. Bob Eardley had a 41, Kim Burton a 46 and John Troma a 48. Jim Powers led Columbiana with a 41, Ted Ossoff had a 42, Dan Reash a 43 and Chris Newell a 46.

The Beavers are now 13-4 on the season.

Greenland, which covers 840,000 square miles, is more than one-eighth ice-capped.

BATEMAN BLOCK. John Bateman, returning to the Astrodome for the first time as a Montreal Expo last night, blocks the plate and tags out Dennis Menke of Houston. The Astros won 5-0.. (UPI Telephoto)

Rinehart Pitches LL No-Hit Game

Dave Rinehart of Vernon Dell pitched a no hitter as the Little League season got off to a spectacular start in East Liverpool last night.

Rinehart fanned eight in his 7-0 win over Veteran Plate, and picked up a double at the plate. Don Thompson and Roger Wolfe each had two hits. Rick Campbell was the losing pitcher.

Chester Legion blanked Parsons Coal 5-0, with Bill Maltrich getting the win. Buddy Gregory hit a home run and Vince Pecora and Mark Glass had two hits each. David Eckstein took the loss and Keith Bell had two hits for the losers.

The Medics beat Burbick's 8-2 behind Greg Golding. David Jackson took the loss and homered for the only two Burbick's runs. Joe O'Hanlon led the winers with a double and single and Jeff Martin had a double.

Richie Hebner of the Pirates is featured on the cover of this week's Sporting News . . . The Senators are running ahead of their best attendance pace ever . . . Tony Conigliaro of the Red Sox is the latest of several baseball players to date actress Mamie Van Doren. Bob Belsinki was the best known of Conigliaro's predecessors . . . The Red Sox made a strange move in farming out Billy Conigliaro, hitting over .300 with power, to make room for Don Lock, acquired from the Phillies . . . The Twins are happy with the play of former Red shortstop Leo (Chico) Cardenas. He was hitting .314 at last look . . . The Twins have stolen home six times so far this season, four of the thefts by Rod Carew.

Pirates Snap Loss Streak

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Two years ago, the only thing about to stop Kenny Holtzman was the the U.S. Army. But that was two years ago.

National League hitters want to know what will stop him now, because it certainly hasn't been them.

The 23-year-old hurler offered little answer to the question Tuesday night as he pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 7-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, raising his record to 7-1 with his third straight shutout.

If this keeps up, people will begin comparing him again to Sandy Koufax. That's the way it was in 1967 when this nice-looking left-handed Jewish boy with the blazing fast ball rolled up a 9-0 record and had the Cubs fighting for a pennant until the Army cut short his season.

Without Holtzman, the Cubs finished second to St. Louis that year. But the army is out of the way now and Holtzman and the Cubs are once again on their way.

Holtzman was only one of four NL pitchers who had the hitters standing at attention Tuesday night as Bob Gibson pitched St. Louis by San Francisco 3-0, Tony Clonngeir's two-htter sparked Cncinnati to a 4-0 triumph over Phladeilpha and Larry Dierker turned in a four-htter in Houston's 5-0 decision over Montreal.

Pittsburgh beat San Diego 6-3 in the only non-shutout, with the New York Mets and Atlanta taking the day off.

Holtzman, a $65,000 bonus baby who had an 11-16 record in his rookie year in 1966 and an 11-14 mark with only six complete games last year, had some problems with his control —he walked five but had the Dodgers toeing the line when it counted.

He yielded only five hits, struck out seven and stranded eight runners as he turned in his fourth whitewash of the season and ran his scoreless inning string to 33.

Don Sutton, 4-4, dueled him through five scoreless innings before his defense started him to his 12th consecutive lifetime loss without a victory against Chicago.

Ron Santo started his downfall in the sixth inning with a two-out single, Ernie Banks doubled and both scored on errors by Bill Sudakis and Wes Parker.

Billy Williams drove out Sutton in the next inning with a two-run double before Banks and Randy Hundley connected for their sixth homers in the eighth.

The victory retained Chicago's six-game lead over Pittsburgh in the East Division and increased it to 6½ over the Mets.

Gibson, 5-2, kept St. Louis seven back with a four-hitter as the troubled Cardinals matched their longest winning streak of the year—three.

Clonnger, 2-5, allowed only a double to Mike Ryan in the third inning and a bunt sngle by Larry Hisle in the sixth as he didn't let a runner past second base.

Tommy Helms' squeeze bunt after Johnny Bench doubled brought in the first run against Rick Wise, 4-3, in the fifth and Bobby Tolan singled in one run and Tony Perez hit his ninth homer for two more in a three-run sixth.

Denis Menke singled in one of two unearned runs in the first inning and tripled home two runs in the third to help Dierker breeze to his sixth victory against four defeats. Montreal has lost five in a row.

Willie Stargell singled in a run in the first inning and then started a decisive two out, four-run burst in the fourth with a single for Pittsburgh, which ended a five-game winless streak. Manny Sangullen and Fred Patek tripled in runs in the inning and Bill Mazeroski and winner Jim Bunning, 3-4, singled in runs.

Beaver Local Surprises Columbiana

Beaver Local upset Columbiana 171-172 in a golf match at the East Liverpool Country Club yesterday.

Rick Metz of the Beavers was medalist, shooting a par 36. Bob Eardley had a 41, Kim Burton a 46 and John Troma a 48. Jim Powers led Columbiana with a 41, Ted Ossoff had a 42, Dan Reash a 43 and Chris Newell a 46.

The Beavers are now 13-4 on the season.

Greenland, which covers 840,000 square miles, is more than one-eighth ice-capped.

BATEMAN BLOCK. John Bateman, returning to the Astrodome for the first time as a Montreal Expo last night, blocks the plate and tags out Dennis Menke of Houston. The Astros won 5-0.. (UPI Telephoto)

Rinehart Pitches LL No-Hit Game

Dave Rinehart of Vernon Dell pitched a no hitter as the Little League season got off to a spectacular start in East Liverpool last night.

Rinehart fanned eight in his 7-0 win over Veteran Plate, and picked up a double at the plate. Don Thompson and Roger Wolfe each had two hits. Rick Campbell was the losing pitcher.

Chester Legion blanked Parsons Coal 5-0, with Bill Maltrich getting the win. Buddy Gregory hit a home run and Vince Pecora and Mark Glass had two hits each. David Eckstein took the loss and Keith Bell had two hits for the losers.

The Medics beat Burbick's 8-2 behind Greg Golding. David Jackson took the loss and homered for the only two Burbick's runs. Joe O'Hanlon led the winers with a double and single and Jeff Martin had a double.

Horton Rejoins Tigers, Sparks Win Over Chisox

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Willie Horton ever gets the urge to roam again, Tommy John will be happy to give him directions—to Morocco or Mandalay.

Horton, who walked out on the Detroit Tigers in the middle of a game against Chicago six days ago, reappeared at Comiskey Park Tuesday night—and promptly sent John and the White Sox on the lam.

The troubled slugger, $1,360 poorer as a result of his four-game absence, cracked a bases-loaded double in his first at-bat, keying a five-run first inning salvo that routed John and sparked the torrid Tigers to a 7-6 victory.

Horton, who was batting .213 when he strolled out of Tiger Stadium last Thursday night, also beat out an infield hit in the third inning and delivered the deciding run in the sixth with a fielder's choice tap.

While the Tigers held off Chicago for their fourth straight victory, Minnesota snapped Baltimore's five-game winning streak with a 3-2, 13-inning triumph over the Orioles.

The New York Yankees extended their unbeaten skein to six by nipping Oakland 2-1; Washington edged Seattle 6-5 and Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-1. California and Boston were rained out.

Horton, who jumped the Tigers "for personal reasons," apologized Sunday and agreed to rejoin them. He was fined $340 for leaving the park in the seventh inning of Thursday's game against John and the Sox, and $340 for each of the three road games he missed,

The Tigers won all three, moving over the .500 mark for the first time since April 25, but they missed the stocky outfielder's big bat, which accounted for 36 homers, 85 RBI and a .285 average last season.

"The incident about his leaving the club is all over and past," said Manager Mayo Smith, who decided to start Horton just before the game. "I just wanted to take a look at him in batting practice. He didn't hit any good balls but the swing was there."

"That was the first time I swung a bat since coming back," said Horton. "I hit the ball real good in the first inning. On a warmer night it might have gone out."

Horton's double over the head of center fielder Ken Berry scored Dick McAuliffe and Al Kaline, who had stroked singles ahead of a walk to Norm Cash. Jim Northrup singled home two more runs and winning pitcher Earl Wilson lashed another RBI single, finishing John.

The Tigers added two runs in the sixth, the second on Horton's force play grounder, for a 7-1 lead and withstood a five-run Chicago burst in the eighth.

Pitcher Jim Kaat's sacrifice fly, after singles by Frank Quilici, Graig Nettles and Ted Uhlaender, gave Minnesota two runs in the 13th and a 3-1 lead. Paul Blair's leadoff homer in the bottom of the inning knocked out Kaat, but Ron Perranoski came out of the bullpen to nail the victory, which broke a four-game losing string for the Twins.

Kaat, 3-2, scattered seven hits over the first 12 innings. Orioles starter Dave McNally, who fired a one-hitter against the Twins last Thursday, allowed three—including Harmon Killebrew's ninth homer—before leaving in the seventh for a pinch hitter.

The victory, coupled with Oakland's loss at New York, moved the second place Twins within one-half game of the A's in the West Division.

Fritz Peterson's five-hit pitching and a two-run homer by catcher Frank Fernandez carried the Yankees past Oakland. Fernandez' third homer, following an infield hit by rookie Jim Lyttle in the second inning, pinned the loss on Jim Nash. Dick Green poled his sixth homer for the Athletics.

Mike Epstein struck out three times before slamming a two-run eighth inning homer that brought the Senators from behind against Seattle. John Kennedy's run-scoring single in the top of the eighth gave the Pilots a 5-4 lead before Marty Pattin walked Frank Howard and was beaten by Epstein's ninth homer.

Sam McDowell throttled Kansas City on two hits and Jose Cardenal homered in the sixth to ignite a decisive three-run burst for the Indians. Lou Piniella's seventh inning homer ruined McDowell's shutout bid.

Browns' Taffoni Reported Okay In Car Accident

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Brown offensive lineman Joe Taffoni was reported in satisfactory condition today in Geauga Community Hospital, where he is being treated for injuries received in an automobile accident early Tuesday.

Taffoni, 24, was injured when a section of U.S. 6, apparently weakened by heavy weekend rains, collapsed while the car in which he was a passenger was on the highway. Authorities said the driver of the car, Daniel Clapacs, 24, Eastlake, had gone through a highway barrier before reaching the weakened section.

Clapacs was treated at the hospital and released. Taffoni suffered facial lacerations and contusions.

Taffoni has been a member of the Browns' specialty teams as well as a reserve on the offensive line.

Browns' Taffoni Reported Okay In Car Accident

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Brown offensive lineman Joe Taffoni was reported in satisfactory condition today in Geauga Community Hospital, where he is being treated for injuries received in an automobile accident early Tuesday.

Taffoni, 24, was injured when a section of U.S. 6, apparently weakened by heavy weekend rains, collapsed while the car in which he was a passenger was on the highway. Authorities said the driver of the car, Daniel Clapacs, 24, Eastlake, had gone through a highway barrier before reaching the weakened section.

Clapacs was treated at the hospital and released. Taffoni suffered facial lacerations and contusions.

Taffoni has been a member of the Browns' specialty teams as well as a reserve on the offensive line.

Majestic Prince's Owner Hedges On Withdrawal

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The turf world was stirred by reports today that Majestic Prince, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will try for racing's Triple Crown after all.

There was as much speculation over the report that Frank McMahon, owner of the unbeaten colt, had changed his mind as there was last Sunday when he announced he would not run Majestic Prince in the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park on June 7.

The Belmont, at a testing 1½ miles, is the final leg in the Triple Crown and no colt has been able to sweep the Derby, Preakness and Belmont in the 21 years since Citation did it in 1948.

The New York Times, in a story bylined by Steve Cady, quoted McMahon as saying over the telephone from Palm Beach, Fla., that "we're going to give him a chance to win the Triple Crown. If he's ready and able to run in the Belmont, he'll run."

However, while McMahon was not available for comment on the story, Edna Resky, his secretary, declared "we don't know how that report got started. The horse definitely isn't running in the Belmont."

Told that Majestic Prince did not show up in Baltimore for his scheduled departure to California on United Air Line freight flight 2083, she said "I know nothing about that. Anything else will have to wait until morning."

And the Miami Herald, in an interview with McMahon at his Palm Beach home Tuesday, quoted him as saying his Sunday decision to keep Majestic Prince out of the Belmont still stands.

"I just don't see the worth of taking the risk," the Herald quoted McMahon. "I feel very badly about it. There's no question a Triple Crown is one of my ambitions, but I don't want to see a Cripple Crown."

In making their totally unexpected announcement last Sunday in Baltimore that Majestic Prince would not try for the Triple Crown, Longden and McMahon said the colt was 100 pounds under weight and needed a rest.

The New York Times story, however, quoted McMahon saying the colt now would be shipped to Belmont instead of California.

"We'll be with him at Belmont and will watch him to see how he comes around," McMahon was quoted.

Majestic Prince beat Arts and Letters by a neck in the Kentucky Derby and by a head in the Preakness, surviving a claim of foul in addition.

A renewal of their rivalry in the historic Belmont Stakes would attract worldwide attention.

McLain Running Ahead Of Last Year's Hot Pace

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — When Detroit's chances to repeat for the American League pennant were being assessed, two statements became boringly repetitious.

"Don't look or Dennis McLain to win 30 games again" or "Don't expect Dennis McLain to win 30 games again."

This deduction was generally accepted in baseball circles despite the fact McLain won 31 games in 1968.

In addition to 30 or more pitching triumphs being logged as somewhat a freak achievement, the last time it was done was by Dizzy Dean in 1934, baseball's rulers went to work to assure that there would be no repetition of 1968 as The Year of the Pitcher.

They decreed a smaller strike zone, lowered the mound and in some cases brought in the fences.

Very good. But so far, Dennis McLain, as could be expected from the brash 25-year-old organ player during the offseason, has confounded the experts as well as American League hitters.

McLain, who didn't win his seventh game in 1968 until May 25, is ahead of schedule and goes for No. 7 this season against the Chicago White Sox tonight.

Although he has lost three already, it should be noted that in two of the losses the Tigers were shut out.

Two successive 30-game seasons? It was last done in 1912-13 by Walter Johnson. And ssince the turn of the century the only others to accomplish the feat were Christy Mathewson and Cy Young.

"Certainly, the possibility is there," said McLain. "But it's so remote, it's tough to say what the chances are.

"So many things have to happen. The little things which can make you or break you.

One thing which might stop McLain from a second straight season of 30 victories is an aching shoulder which has required shots of cortisone.

"The cortisone has done the job so far and I hope it does it all year but if it doesn't, I don't know what will happen," said McLain.

"Anyway, let's look at it this way. I'm not being paid to win 30 games, I'm being paid to help win a pennant and that's the important thing."

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith looked at it this way. "The man has never ceased to amaze me. Certainly the percentage is against him to win 30 again.

"But he's only 25 and has the faculty of knowing how to set up a hitter. Some pitchers don't learn how until they're 28 or 30. A lot of them never learn how."

Van Breda Kolff New Detroit Piston Coach

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Bill van Breda Kolff signed a two-year contract as coach of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association today, just two days after he had resigned as coach of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Official announcement of what was hardly a secret came at a morning press conference called by Edwin E. Coil, general manager of the Pistons.

"We don't want it announced before 9:30 a.m., although it's really no secret at this stage," a Pistons' spokesman said Tuesday night.

Van Breda Kolff, who succeeds Paul Seymour at Detroit, resigned as coach of the Lakers on Monday a few weeks ago after the Lakers had been beaten by the Boston Celtics in the seventh an deciding game of the NBA championship playoff.

He had been at odds with Big Wilt Chamberlain the Lakers' 7-foot-1 star, especially over keeping Chamberlain on the bench during the closing minutes of Boston's 108-106 victory.

Prior to taking over the reins of the Lakers for the 1967-68 season, Van Breda Kolff compiled a record of 307-109 in 16 years of college coaching.

His latest college job was at Princeton where his teams won 103 while losing just 31 and reaching the NCAA tournament twice. His star at Princeton was All-American Bill Bradley.

Los Angeles, which finished second in the West Division in Van Breda Kolff's first year, won the division title this season only to lose the finals by two points in the seventh game to the boston Celtics.

The 47-year-old coach is considered demanding, outspoken and often gruff. He is a staunch believer in team play and says, "Give me a group of men who can pass the ball well and we'll win."

Seymour, who took over from Donnis Butcher last December, wanted out of his head coaching job to spend more time with his family and business interests in Syracuse, N.Y.

He will remain with the Pistons as a scout and advisor in the team's player-procurement program, Coil said.

Rindt Eyes Indianapolis 500 Race

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Jochen Rindt, his nose flattened like a boxer's from a recent accident in Grand Prix competition, is ready to begin the third round of his battle with the Indianapolis 500.

All he needs is a finished car.

Rindt, the 27-year-old driver from Vienna, is one of four foreigners hoping to catch up with the American drivers for this weekend's qualifying and the May 30 race. So far, the weather has been their best friend.

"It was perfect. It couldn't have worked out better," Rindt said.

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway management didn't think the weather was perfect, but then Rindt has disagreed with them before.

Majestic Prince's Owner Hedges On Withdrawal

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The turf world was stirred by reports today that Majestic Prince, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will try for racing's Triple Crown after all.

There was as much speculation over the report that Frank McMahon, owner of the unbeaten colt, had changed his mind as there was last Sunday when he announced he would not run Majestic Prince in the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park on June 7.

The Belmont, at a testing 1½ miles, is the final leg in the Triple Crown and no colt has been able to sweep the Derby, Preakness and Belmont in the 21 years since Citation did it in 1948.

The New York Times, in a story bylined by Steve Cady, quoted McMahon as saying over the telephone from Palm Beach, Fla., that "we're going to give him a chance to win the Triple Crown. If he's ready and able to run in the Belmont, he'll run."

However, while McMahon was not available for comment on the story, Edna Resky, his secretary, declared "we don't know how that report got started. The horse definitely isn't running in the Belmont."

Told that Majestic Prince did not show up in Baltimore for his scheduled departure to California on United Air Line freight flight 2083, she said "I know nothing about that. Anything else will have to wait until morning."

And the Miami Herald, in an interview with McMahon at his Palm Beach home Tuesday, quoted him as saying his Sunday decision to keep Majestic Prince out of the Belmont still stands.

"I just don't see the worth of taking the risk," the Herald quoted McMahon. "I feel very badly about it. There's no question a Triple Crown is one of my ambitions, but I don't want to see a Cripple Crown."

In making their totally unexpected announcement last Sunday in Baltimore that Majestic Prince would not try for the Triple Crown, Longden and McMahon said the colt was 100 pounds under weight and needed a rest.

The New York Times story, however, quoted McMahon saying the colt now would be shipped to Belmont instead of California.

"We'll be with him at Belmont and will watch him to see how he comes around," McMahon was quoted.

Majestic Prince beat Arts and Letters by a neck in the Kentucky Derby and by a head in the Preakness, surviving a claim of foul in addition.

A renewal of their rivalry in the historic Belmont Stakes would attract worldwide attention.

McLain Running Ahead Of Last Year's Hot Pace

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — When Detroit's chances to repeat for the American League pennant were being assessed, two statements became boringly repetitious.

"Don't look or Dennis McLain to win 30 games again" or "Don't expect Dennis McLain to win 30 games again."

This deduction was generally accepted in baseball circles despite the fact McLain won 31 games in 1968.

In addition to 30 or more pitching triumphs being logged as somewhat a freak achievement, the last time it was done was by Dizzy Dean in 1934, baseball's rulers went to work to assure that there would be no repetition of 1968 as The Year of the Pitcher.

They decreed a smaller strike zone, lowered the mound and in some cases brought in the fences.

Very good. But so far, Dennis McLain, as could be expected from the brash 25-year-old organ player during the offseason, has confounded the experts as well as American League hitters.

McLain, who didn't win his seventh game in 1968 until May 25, is ahead of schedule and goes for No. 7 this season against the Chicago White Sox tonight.

Although he has lost three already, it should be noted that in two of the losses the Tigers were shut out.

Two successive 30-game seasons? It was last done in 1912-13 by Walter Johnson. And ssince the turn of the century the only others to accomplish the feat were Christy Mathewson and Cy Young.

"Certainly, the possibility is there," said McLain. "But it's so remote, it's tough to say what the chances are.

"So many things have to happen. The little things which can make you or break you.

One thing which might stop McLain from a second straight season of 30 victories is an aching shoulder which has required shots of cortisone.

"The cortisone has done the job so far and I hope it does it all year but if it doesn't, I don't know what will happen," said McLain.

"Anyway, let's look at it this way. I'm not being paid to win 30 games, I'm being paid to help win a pennant and that's the important thing."

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith looked at it this way. "The man has never ceased to amaze me. Certainly the percentage is against him to win 30 again.

"But he's only 25 and has the faculty of knowing how to set up a hitter. Some pitchers don't learn how until they're 28 or 30. A lot of them never learn how."

Van Breda Kolff New Detroit Piston Coach

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Bill van Breda Kolff signed a two-year contract as coach of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association today, just two days after he had resigned as coach of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Official announcement of what was hardly a secret came at a morning press conference called by Edwin E. Coil, general manager of the Pistons.

"We don't want it announced before 9:30 a.m., although it's really no secret at this stage," a Pistons' spokesman said Tuesday night.

Van Breda Kolff, who succeeds Paul Seymour at Detroit, resigned as coach of the Lakers on Monday a few weeks ago after the Lakers had been beaten by the Boston Celtics in the seventh an deciding game of the NBA championship playoff.

He had been at odds with Big Wilt Chamberlain the Lakers' 7-foot-1 star, especially over keeping Chamberlain on the bench during the closing minutes of Boston's 108-106 victory.

Prior to taking over the reins of the Lakers for the 1967-68 season, Van Breda Kolff compiled a record of 307-109 in 16 years of college coaching.

His latest college job was at Princeton where his teams won 103 while losing just 31 and reaching the NCAA tournament twice. His star at Princeton was All-American Bill Bradley.

Los Angeles, which finished second in the West Division in Van Breda Kolff's first year, won the division title this season only to lose the finals by two points in the seventh game to the boston Celtics.

The 47-year-old coach is considered demanding, outspoken and often gruff. He is a staunch believer in team play and says, "Give me a group of men who can pass the ball well and we'll win."

He will remain with the Pistons as a scout and advisor in the team's player-procurement program, Coil said.

Rindt Eyes Indianapolis 500 Race

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Jochen Rindt, his nose flattened like a boxer's from a recent accident in Grand Prix competition, is ready to begin the third round of his battle with the Indianapolis 500.

All he needs is a finished car.

Rindt, the 27-year-old driver from Vienna, is one of four foreigners hoping to catch up with the American drivers for this weekend's qualifying and the May 30 race. So far, the weather has been their best friend.

"It was perfect. It couldn't have worked out better," Rindt said.

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway management didn't think the weather was perfect, but then Rindt has disagreed with them before.

The DOCTOR Says

Dermatitis Treatment Depends On Type

Q—I have dermatitis on my legs. What causes it? Is there any cure for it?

Dr Brandstadt

A—There are many types of dermatitis or inflammatory skin disease. Before your doctor can prescribe any treatment for it he must identify the type and find the cause.

Q—I have just recovered from a bout of Duhring's disease. What caused it and how can I prevent a recurrence?

A—This disease, also called dermatitis herpetiformis, is characterized by a severe itching eruption with spontaneous remissions and recurrences. The victims are usually advised to avoid eating iodized salt, chocolate, nuts, fish and pork. It runs its course after several years.

Recent studies suggest that the cause is a sensitivity to gluten. Seven patients with this disease ate a gluten - free diet for ssix months and showed a marked improvement in both their skin and their general health. Gluten is present in wheat, barley and rye.

Q—My doctor says I have dermatitis venenata. He has been treating it for six years but just when I think it's getting better it breaks out again. How can I get rid of it?

A—Dermatitis venenata, more commonly called contact dermatitis or contact eczema, includes poison ivy eruption and allergic reactions to various plants, fabrics, soaps, dyes and chemicals. The only effective treatment is to identify the offending substance and avoid it. Overtreatment is often responsible for keeping the disease going.

Q—I am 70 and my husband is 72. He is not ill but he mentions his impending death several times a day. This sort of talk is driving me up the wall. How can I get him to stop?

A—Although all of us must die sometime it is decidedly abnormal to dwell on the fact. We are placed on earth to enjoy life to the fullest and to live a day at a time. If your husband will not see a doctor, preferably one who specializes in nervous and mental diseases, you should ask your clergyman to talk to him.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

New Date Set For Trial On Razing Order

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday warned a St. Clair Township couple he will decree fines and order the city to raze an old building in West End if they have not taken action by Monday to comply with an order from Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne to demolish or repair the structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shields of Substation Rd. appeared before the court Tuesday, charged separately with failure to obey the chief's order, issued April 3. In granting the continuance until Monday, the judge asked the chief to report to him whether any action has been taken to comply with the order.

"If no effort has been made to tear this building down by them, I will issue a bench warrants for both of you," the judge told the pair. "You will be fined for each day the violation continues. And I will issue an order for the city to tear down the building and apply the cost to the tax duplicate."

VanDyne told the court the condemned building is the old Y. & O. freight station on Claiborne St. His order said the sills are rotten, the roof leaks, and the building is full of cardboard boxes and paper. The order termed the building "unsafe, a fire hazard and a public nuisance."

Shields told the court he no longer owns the building. He said he signed over his interest four months ago as part of a separation agreement with his wife. Mrs. Shields conceded that she believes she is the owner after the judge questioned her about the person to whom tax statements were sent.

VanDyne told the court state law allows the city to tear down the structure and bill the charge on the tax duplicate, plus a 25 per cent penalty.

North America's amusement parks outgross all other forms of recreation. They represent 15 per cent of the world's total and do an annual business of nearly $460 million, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

Smallest hoofed animal in the world is the chevrotain, or mouse deer, of the East Indies and West Africa. It measures only 12 inches high at the shoulders.

Junior Firemen Plan Auto Wash

Plans for a car wash were made at a meeting of the Lawrenceville Junior Fire Department Monday. Twelve members attended.

The car wash will be held June 7 at the Davis IGA store parking lot. Proceeds will go towards purchasing protective clothing for the junior firemen.

Two new members approved were Harry Gallop and Terry Simpson.

Nomination of officers was held. The election will be at the next meeting June 2.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What corrective measure can I take when I have inadvertently gotten too much bluing into some of my wash?

A. — Just rinse the articles in clear water to which you've added a little vinegar.

Q. — How can I prevent un unfilled pie crust from shrinking?

A. — Take a foil plate and cut out the center. Place the ring upside down on your unbaked crust. With the center out, the crust will brown. When the crust is baked, remove the ring, and add the filling.

Q. — How can I repair door stops that have lost their rubber bumpers?

A. — Try first cutting off the boss at the end of the stop with a hacksaw, then filing the end flat and drilling a 1-16-inch hole in it. Bend a slight kink in the shank of a rubber tack bumper, and drive this into the door stop.

HOW TO PUT DROPS IN YOUR EYES

Of course the easiest way is to have someone else put the drops in your eyes for you. It is not difficult to do it yourself. First tilt your head as far back as possible or lie flat on your back.

Then, look up at the ceiling. Close one eye and center the dropper over the other and squeeze the drops into your eye. Finally, close your eye and gently massage for a few strokes. Do not touch the dropper to your eye. This may contaminate the remaining drops.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Un-alarming Wake-up

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a sleepyhead pal? Want to do 'em a favor? Well, here's what I did:

Heloise

This morning (would you believe at 6:15?) I picked up the phone and dialed my sleepy friend. She had an early morning appointment, and she just can't seem to hear her alarm.

She answered and mumbled, "thank you," and hung up.

Well, I plugged in the old coffee pot, fixed myself a cup of coffee and got back in bed (really is a luxury to have coffee in bed).

Then I picked up the phone and called my sleepy friend again. This time she had a clear "hello" for me.

However, she does return the favor in the evenings as I can always dial this same friend and talk over all my big problems and by the end of the conversation they all seem like little ones.

All in all—the favor is returned by my night owl friend.

So if you have a pal like this one who can't hear the alarm, why not use my idea and spread a favor?

ELISE.

Oh, Elise, sure wish you lived on the other side of my fence.

I can't seem to hear that little ole alarm, either, and have wished for someone like you many a time.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: How about using long macaroni for drinking straws?

My kids love them. When they are through drinking, they eat the "straws."

MRS. R. J. KELLY

DEAR HELOISE: When combing or pinning up your hair by the bathroom mirror, put the stopper in before you start. Then put a strip of tissue over it.

This will catch your hairpins and loose hair and prevent them from going down the drain.

A CONSTANT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to dread the day when I had to turn on my water evaporative fan and my window fans because of the dust that would blow into the room. Even though I wiped the fan blades and cleaned everywhere I could, dust was still blown in for a little while when it was first turned on.

Now each season before I use our water cooler or window fan, I clean where I can. Then I hold a damp bath towel up in front of the opening where the air is blown into the room — and turn on the fan.

In just a few minutes, the fan has blown all the loose dirt and dust against the damp towel and I catch it.

The towel is simple to launder, and I don't have unwanted dust flying around my house.

MRS. BERTAH REYNOLDS.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't fret if you find yourself without candle holders for a birthday cake. Hold each candle over a low heat to soften the end. Then insert a toothpick into the softened end before it hardens, and set the toothpick into the cake.

The candles will stand neatly upright and you'll be delighted with the effect.

BUSY BEE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use quite a few green beans and always save the canned juice or liquid and pour it into a pint glass container. Then I add a small can of tomato juice to make up a pint of tomato cocktail.

A READER.

Probers Cite Contamination Near Gas Warfare Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have obtained military maps showing a biologically contaminated area in Utah near a gas warfare proving ground where the Army has said there is no contamination.

The maps raised the question of Army truthfulness, according to Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee investigating the use of biochemical warfare agents such as nerve gas.

Army witnesses were called to appear today before Reuss' subcommittee to explain the maps and two other incidents in which Army spokesmen reportedly were not straight forward about what is going on at Dugway Proving Grounds in Utah.

The Army and Air Force maps, exhibited to the subcommittee Tuesday, showed a "Permanent Bio Contaminated Area" nine miles in diameter located about 15 miles outside Dugway Proving Grounds.

Reuss said he is concerned about the maps since Army officials had denied there was a contaminated area in Dugway.

Some 6,000 sheep died last year near the proving ground. Military officials did not concede that chemical biological warfare testing had killed the sheep, but the government paid compensation to owners of the animals.

Republican Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, whose district includes Dugway, testified he is convinced the Army did not lie about the maps, since the area is outside—not in—Dugway.

"Don't you think honorable men would have to say: 'No we don't have one within the proving grounds but we do have one outside'?" asked Reuss.

In other testimony Tuesday, Dr. D. A. Osguthorpe, consultant to the Utah State Agriculture Department, said the Army denied for a week after a botched nerve gas test at Dugway last year that any gas had been tested for two years previously.

Osguthorpe said by the time the Army admitted the test had taken place more than 6,000 sheep had died with symptoms of nerve gas poisoning.

Osguthorpe said he could have saved many of the sheep if the Army had admitted the test earlier, allowing officials to figure out what antidote to use.

Man Acquitted Of Gun Charge; Guilty Of Assault

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday acquitted Matt I. Marcum, 29, of Glenmoor of a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, but found him guilty of simple assault on David Hoppel of East Liverpool RD 3.

The jury of six women and six men deliberated one hour and 45 minutes before convicting the defendant of a misdemeanor instead of the charged felony. Judge Raymond S. Buzzard deferred sentencing.

Hoppel told the jury Marcum and his brother, Lawrence David Marcum, stopped his truck the night of Jan. 13 on the road from the Salisbury brickyard to Irondale and ordered him out at the point of a shotgun.

He said both men threatened him with his life if he did not return their father's tools. He said he had discharged their father, John Marcum, a mechanic, and retained his tools because the employe owed him money. Hoppel said it was David Marcum who pointed the shotgun at him.

Matt Marcum told the jury they wanted "to reason with" Hoppel about the return of the tools. Matt said he made no threats and declared the shotgun was barrel - down throughout the conversation. He testified he told his brother to put the gun away.

HOW TO PUT DROPS IN YOUR EYES

Of course the easiest way is to have someone else put the drops in your eyes for you. It is not difficult to do it yourself. First tilt your head as far back as possible or lie flat on your back.

Then, look up at the ceiling. Close one eye and center the dropper over the other and squeeze the drops into your eye. Finally, close your eye and gently massage for a few strokes. Do not touch the dropper to your eye. This may contaminate the remaining drops.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Un-alarming Wake-up

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a sleepyhead pal? Want to do 'em a favor? Well, here's what I did:

Heloise

This morning (would you believe at 6:15?) I picked up the phone and dialed my sleepy friend. She had an early morning appointment, and she just can't seem to hear her alarm.

She answered and mumbled, "thank you," and hung up.

Well, I plugged in the old coffee pot, fixed myself a cup of coffee and got back in bed (really is a luxury to have coffee in bed).

Then I picked up the phone and called my sleepy friend again. This time she had a clear "hello" for me.

However, she does return the favor in the evenings as I can always dial this same friend and talk over all my big problems and by the end of the conversation they all seem like little ones.

All in all—the favor is returned by my night owl friend.

So if you have a pal like this one who can't hear the alarm, why not use my idea and spread a favor?

ELISE.

Oh, Elise, sure wish you lived on the other side of my fence.

I can't seem to hear that little ole alarm, either, and have wished for someone like you many a time.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: How about using long macaroni for drinking straws?

My kids love them. When they are through drinking, they eat the "straws."

MRS. R. J. KELLY

DEAR HELOISE: When combing or pinning up your hair by the bathroom mirror, put the stopper in before you start. Then put a strip of tissue over it.

This will catch your hairpins and loose hair and prevent them from going down the drain.

A CONSTANT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to dread the day when I had to turn on my water evaporative fan and my window fans because of the dust that would blow into the room. Even though I wiped the fan blades and cleaned everywhere I could, dust was still blown in for a little while when it was first turned on.

Now each season before I use our water cooler or window fan, I clean where I can. Then I hold a damp bath towel up in front of the opening where the air is blown into the room — and turn on the fan.

In just a few minutes, the fan has blown all the loose dirt and dust against the damp towel and I catch it.

The towel is simple to launder, and I don't have unwanted dust flying around my house.

MRS. BERTAH REYNOLDS.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't fret if you find yourself without candle holders for a birthday cake. Hold each candle over a low heat to soften the end. Then insert a toothpick into the softened end before it hardens, and set the toothpick into the cake.

The candles will stand neatly upright and you'll be delighted with the effect.

BUSY BEE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use quite a few green beans and always save the canned juice or liquid and pour it into a pint glass container. Then I add a small can of tomato juice to make up a pint of tomato cocktail.

A READER.

Probers Cite Contamination Near Gas Warfare Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have obtained military maps showing a biologically contaminated area in Utah near a gas warfare proving ground where the Army has said there is no contamination.

The maps raised the question of Army truthfulness, according to Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee investigating the use of biochemical warfare agents such as nerve gas.

Army witnesses were called to appear today before Reuss' subcommittee to explain the maps and two other incidents in which Army spokesmen reportedly were not straight forward about what is going on at Dugway Proving Grounds in Utah.

The Army and Air Force maps, exhibited to the subcommittee Tuesday, showed a "Permanent Bio Contaminated Area" nine miles in diameter located about 15 miles outside Dugway Proving Grounds.

Reuss said he is concerned about the maps since Army officials had denied there was a contaminated area in Dugway.

Some 6,000 sheep died last year near the proving ground. Military officials did not concede that chemical biological warfare testing had killed the sheep, but the government paid compensation to owners of the animals.

Republican Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, whose district includes Dugway, testified he is convinced the Army did not lie about the maps, since the area is outside—not in—Dugway.

"Don't you think honorable men would have to say: 'No we don't have one within the proving grounds but we do have one outside'?" asked Reuss.

In other testimony Tuesday, Dr. D. A. Osguthorpe, consultant to the Utah State Agriculture Department, said the Army denied for a week after a botched nerve gas test at Dugway last year that any gas had been tested for two years previously.

Osguthorpe said by the time the Army admitted the test had taken place more than 6,000 sheep had died with symptoms of nerve gas poisoning.

Osguthorpe said he could have saved many of the sheep if the Army had admitted the test earlier, allowing officials to figure out what antidote to use.

Man Acquitted Of Gun Charge; Guilty Of Assault

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday acquitted Matt I. Marcum, 29, of Glenmoor of a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, but found him guilty of simple assault on David Hoppel of East Liverpool RD 3.

The jury of six women and six men deliberated one hour and 45 minutes before convicting the defendant of a misdemeanor instead of the charged felony. Judge Raymond S. Buzzard deferred sentencing.

Hoppel told the jury Marcum and his brother, Lawrence David Marcum, stopped his truck the night of Jan. 13 on the road from the Salisbury brickyard to Irondale and ordered him out at the point of a shotgun.

He said both men threatened him with his life if he did not return their father's tools. He said he had discharged their father, John Marcum, a mechanic, and retained his tools because the employe owed him money. Hoppel said it was David Marcum who pointed the shotgun at him.

Matt Marcum told the jury they wanted "to reason with" Hoppel about the return of the tools. Matt said he made no threats and declared the shotgun was barrel - down throughout the conversation. He testified he told his brother to put the gun away.

ANN LANDERS

Maids With Mustashes

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 26-year-old girl with a 5 o'clock shadow.

This may sound funny to some people, but I can tell you that a secretary who has to shave every day sees very little to laugh at.

I keep reading ads for do-it-yourself electrolysis kits. It sounds so simple I'm suspicious. A friend of mine who went to a licensed electrologist to have her mustache removed spent $200 and at least one-third of the hair grew back.

If a licensed operator can't do any better than that, how well can an inexperienced person do, especially if she's working on herself? Please set me straight. — HIRSUTE IN HILLSDALE.

Dear H.: The most highly skilled electrologists report that they can permanently destroy only about 80 per cent of the hair roots on the first go-around.

The reason is simple. The roots of some hair follicles are curved, and the needle misses them. Your friend who spent $200 should have spent another $100 and had the job completed.

Hair removal is no place to save money. My advice is to forget about do-it-yourself kits and go to a skin specialist. Ask him to do the removal or recommend a licensed electrologist whose work he knows

Playing With Fire

Dear Ann: Thank you for printing that letter from the girl who signed herself "Guilty." She told how she teased her boy friend and led him on just to see how far he'd go.

When he went TOO far she swung from the floor and walloped him across the face. That was supposed to let him know she was "a nice girl."

Her boy friend told her in plain lanugage that a tease was less moral than a total put-out. He said he had more respect for the girl who went all the way than the girl who turned a guy on, lured him to the brink, then clobbered him.

I want to thank the girl for writing as she did. Her letter made me see myself through the boy's eyes. Never again will I play that game. Thank her, please, and thank you, too. — FRESH START.

Dear Start: Good girl! And for those of you who see a tiny bit of yourselves in the above exchange, I bid you — go and do likewise.

Boob Tube Boob

Dear Ann: What can a husband do when he is unable to get his wife to go to bed at night and he can't get her out of bed in the morning?

Leona is nuts over TV. She'll watch anything that moves. I turn in at midnight because I must get up at 6:30. Leona has to be up at 7:15 to get to work on time. I fix breakfast for both of us and wake her up just before I leave.

It's a terrific struggle to get her out of the sack because she stays glued to the idiot box until 3 a.m. We have a fight every morning on account of this. What's the solution? — WOODY.

Dear Wood: Buy Leona a new alarm clock and tell her she's on her own. When you let her oversleep a few times and she learns she no longer can depend on you, she'll make it on her own.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$175,750 Asked For Injuries In Two-Car Mishap

LISBON — Lewis L. Morrison of Rosemont RD 1, W. Va., filed a $175,750 lawsuit Tuesday in Common Pleas Court for injuries received two years ago next Saturday in a two-car accident on County Rd. 418, a half-mile south of Rogers.

The defendants are Richard A. Thomas of Spokane, Wash., a minor at the time of the accident; his father, Donald C. Thomas of East Liverpool RD 1, and Cerni Pontiac, Inc., of Struthers and Youngstown.

Morrison claims he was pulling from a private driveway onto Route 428 when the youth came down grade recklessly and at excessive speed and struck his car. The elder Thomas had signed for his son to get a driver's license, Morrison said, and the youth was driving a car loaned to him by Cerni.

Morrison said he was in East Liverpool City Hospital nearly one month with severe injuries of the chest, head and shoulder.

A former maintenance man and night watchman at Central Service in East Liverpool, Morrison says his earning capacity was permanently impaired by the injuries. The $750 in the suit is for damage to his car.

Barbershoppers To Sing During Pottery Festival

An invitation to sing during the Pottery Festival June 20 was accepted during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church.

Glenn Woods directed the singing.

Lunch was served by Glen Hart.

Guests were Dr. J. M. Cartwright, Jack Sayre and son Paul.

The next session will be Monday.

Strike Idles TRW Facility

MINERVA — Production was halted today at the TRW Metals Division Co. plant here today by pickets apparently in disagreement over current contract bargaining.

Company officials, who termed the strike "wildcat," said the pickets represented a group of dissidents who lost out in a union representation election in April.

Contract talks are continuing with the Metal Workers Alliance Inc., a independent union which won the bargaining agent rights at the April 24 election.

A spokesman said agreement has been reached on 14 major items in a new contract, and only wages and vacation issues have yet to be decided.

Negotiations were continuing on day - to - day basis following expiration of the contract Monday.

Justice--And Plaster--Hung In The Balance

LISBON — A wet spot on the west wall of Courtroom 2 glistened Monday afternoon as rained teemed down outside. A woman juror brushed a drop of water from her arm.

Workmen Tuesday night removed the bad spot, and said they wondered what held the plaster in place. The metal lathe had rusted out in places. They said the lightest pressure dislodged 10-pound sections of plaster.

The hole is about six feet high and five feet wide, and includes in a 6-foot-long section of the heavy plaster moulding at the edge of the block ceiling.

Workmen said the damage was caused by a hole in the roof. Dampness also damaged the wall of the law library on the third floor above the courtroom.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

The Girl From 'Hee Haw' Jeannine Riley

In the wake of the solid success of the "Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" and the pheonominal popularity of country-Western music, it was inevitable, I suppose, that TV's summer session would be filled with yodeling cowboys and swirling calico.

Cecil Smith

One show that will come out of Nashville via CBS June 15 is called "He Haw" and has been described to me as a hayseed "Laugh-In." It involves a lot of performers famous in that capital of the country music scene, among them Roy Clark, Buck Owens, Grandpa Jones, Stringbean, Cousin Clem and Lulu.

-:-

BUT THERE in the middle of the corn-fed crop will be a statuesque blonde named Jeannine Riley, who would be a handsome decoration at the smartest supper parties or the most sophisticated of night clubs.

"Call me Jenny," said Jeannine, "and don't look surprised. I grew up on country music. I was born in Fresno, but was raised in Madera, right in the farm belt (of California's San Joaquin Valley). Every time you turned on a radio in Madera you got Eddy Arnold or Roy Acuff or the Sons of the Pioneers.

"I STARTED in calico on television in 'Petticoat Junction' (as Billie Jo). After I left the series after two years, Al Capp cast me as Daisy Mae in that pilot of 'Li'l Abner' that didn't sell. When they wanted a Daisy Mae for 'Hee Haw,' they called me."

Jeannine (or Jenny) was a champion swimmer who entered show business under water. There's an underground night club in Fresno with a wall of glass behind the bar and the lower part of a smimming pool beyond the glass.

As a teen-ager, Jeannine was hired to be a mermaid in the pool. Later she and another expert girl swimmer worked out a dancing act and danced underwater for the edification of the bar customers.

JEANNINE moved inside as a singer in the club (dry) — "but country music wasn't the thing then; it was whispering, like Julie London; all the singers were whisperers." From there via "Pasadena Playhouse" she hit Hollywood and "Petticoat Junction."

"Maybe because I was a swimmer and used to dream of being Esther Williams, all I could think of was movies," said Jeannie. "I left 'Petticoat Junction' to make movies.

"I was disillusioned fast.

"Movies to me were glamor. They were Joan Crawford. They were beauty where your hair glistened and your lips glistened and your eyes glistened. It was magic time.

"BUT WHEN I got to movies, that was all gone. The magic was gone. The parts were hard, aggressive, realistic women — the emancipated woman.

"I'd rather be romantic than emancipated. When I think of a movie star, I don't think of somebody who looks like your neighbor."

Jeannine made a series of movies, the latest of which is the only one she really likes — "The Comic," written and directed by Carl Reiner and starring Dick Van Dyke (it will be released next fall).

Meanwhile, she and her mother opened The Gunny Sack in Fresno, featuring mod fashions, and it has been so successful they're currently planning a string of boutiques.

OF ITS SUCCESS, she said: "Let's say I don't have to do anything I don't want to do."

But she wants to do "Hee Haw."

"You know why? They said I could do comedy, that I won't just say the straight lines, but I can say the funny lines. I've spent my life saying straight lines. I want to say funny lines."

Nixon Eyes New Teeth In Dope Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is exected to ask Congress soon to put back the teeth extracted from the federal antimarijuana laws by the Supreme Court this week.

The court, in overturning the marijuana conviction of Dr. Timothy F. Leary, specifically left the door open for new federal legislation to control the controversial weed.

The administration, sources said, is laboring to revise the antidrug message Nixon was about to send to Congress before the court pointed up the defects in existing federal laws.

Meanwhile, some federal and local law enforcement officers tended to discount, at first reading, the impact of the Leary decision on their ability to deal with traffic in pot.

—The 5th Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination is an absolute defense to prosecution for failing to pay the federal tax of $100 per ounce on marijuana. By signing government forms of intent to possess marijuana, the court reasoned, an individual incriminates himself as to possible state prosecution.

The ruling did not affect the legality of the antipot laws on the books of all 50 states.

Judge Convicts Heights Woman In 'Fence' Case

Mrs. Evelyn Balser of 1533 Lisbon St. was convicted today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of violating a city ordinance by erecting a barbed wire fence on her property.

The court ordered a fine of $10 and costs, but suspended the penalty on payment of costs and a promise from the defendant the fence would be removed. The charges were filed by Mrs. Betty Howell of 1529 Lisbon St., Mrs. Balser's next-door neighbor. She testified a three-strand barbed wire fence was erected on the Balser property.

The court granted a motion by Asst. Solicitor Robert Simpson to dismiss a second affidavit in which Mrs. Balswer was accused of "keeping two or three horses" on the property "which create offensive odors which are a menace to the health, safety or comfort of the public."

Mrs. Howell also filed the second charge. The solicitor told the court investigation showed insufficient evidence to sustain the allegation. Mrs. Balser pleaded not guilty to both counts last Thursday and her hearing was continued until today.

Nixon Eyes New Teeth In Dope Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is exected to ask Congress soon to put back the teeth extracted from the federal antimarijuana laws by the Supreme Court this week.

The court, in overturning the marijuana conviction of Dr. Timothy F. Leary, specifically left the door open for new federal legislation to control the controversial weed.

The administration, sources said, is laboring to revise the antidrug message Nixon was about to send to Congress before the court pointed up the defects in existing federal laws.

Meanwhile, some federal and local law enforcement officers tended to discount, at first reading, the impact of the Leary decision on their ability to deal with traffic in pot.

—The 5th Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination is an absolute defense to prosecution for failing to pay the federal tax of $100 per ounce on marijuana. By signing government forms of intent to possess marijuana, the court reasoned, an individual incriminates himself as to possible state prosecution.

The ruling did not affect the legality of the antipot laws on the books of all 50 states.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

The Girl From 'Hee Haw' Jeannine Riley

In the wake of the solid success of the "Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" and the pheonominal popularity of country-Western music, it was inevitable, I suppose, that TV's summer session would be filled with yodeling cowboys and swirling calico.

Cecil Smith

One show that will come out of Nashville via CBS June 15 is called "He Haw" and has been described to me as a hayseed "Laugh-In." It involves a lot of performers famous in that capital of the country music scene, among them Roy Clark, Buck Owens, Grandpa Jones, Stringbean, Cousin Clem and Lulu.

-:-

BUT THERE in the middle of the corn-fed crop will be a statuesque blonde named Jeannine Riley, who would be a handsome decoration at the smartest supper parties or the most sophisticated of night clubs.

"Call me Jenny," said Jeannine, "and don't look surprised. I grew up on country music. I was born in Fresno, but was raised in Madera, right in the farm belt (of California's San Joaquin Valley). Every time you turned on a radio in Madera you got Eddy Arnold or Roy Acuff or the Sons of the Pioneers.

"I STARTED in calico on television in "Petticoat Junction' (as Billie Jo). After I left the series after two years, Al Capp cast me as Daisy Mae in that pilot of 'Li'l Abner' that didn't sell. When they wanted a Daisy Mae for 'Hee Haw,' they called me."

Jeannine (or Jenny) was a champion swimmer who entered show business under water. There's an underground night club in Fresno with a wall of glass behind the bar and the lower part of a smimming pool beyond the glass.

As a teen-ager, Jeannine was hired to be a mermaid in the pool. Later she and another expert girl swimmer worked out a dancing act and danced underwater for the edification of the bar customers.

JEANNINE moved inside as a singer in the club (dry) — "but country music wasn't the thing then; it was whispering, like Julie London; all the singers were whisperers." From there via "Pasadena Playhouse" she hit Hollywood and "Petticoat Junction."

Nixon Seen Reaching Accord With Thieu In June 8 Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources say President Nixon is confident he can reach agreements with South Vietnam President Nguyan Van Thieu that will advance chances of peace in Vietnam.

Nixon also reportedly told GOP congressional leaders at the White House Tuesday that, despite contrary reports, Thieu is proving very cooperative with the new administration.

Thieu and Nixon will meet June 8 on Midway Island for discussions expected to center around possible new Vietnam elections and U.S. troop withdrawals.

House Repbulican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Nixon's foreign policy advisor, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, told GOP leaders that Saigon was happy with Nixon's speech last Wednesday proposing a new peace plan.

"The Saigon government is ethusiastically favorable in its response to the President's recommendations in his speech," Ford quoted Kissinger as saying.

Asked if this meant that Washington and Saigon were in tune on general goals and the formation of a coalition government, Ford replied: "As I understand it, the Saigon government approved the words, the language and the phrases of the President's speech as he gave it on Wednesday."

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson thought at times that Thieu was in tune with American policies only to have the Saigon leader balk later. But Nixon was said to feel that this is not likely to happen now that U.S. leadership has changed.

Nixon's proposal for mutual withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnam troops was reported to have been bolstered by optimistic reports brought back from Vietnam by Secretary of Defense Melrin R. Laird of progress in whipping the South Vietnamese army into fighting shape.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who obviously furnished the President with the latest assessment of Thieu's attitude, will be joined by Laird and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in backstoping Nixon at the Midway meeting.

Kennedy Under GOP Doves Fire On Battle Tactics Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat, has come under fire from Republican doves for going beyond attacks on broad Vietnam policy and criticizing battle tactics.

A speech Tuesday by Kennedy, considered a front-runner for his party's 1972 presidential nomination, was supported by some Democratic critics of the war, but drew barbs from Senate Republicans generally opposed to the nation's Vietnam stance.

Kennedy triggered the GOP backlash when he said the 10-day siege of Hamburger Hill, which killed 46 Americans and 308 wounded, is an example of sacrifice "for a false sense of military pride."

"I feel it is both senseless and irresponsible to continue to send our young men to their deaths to capture hills and positions that have no relation to ending this conflict," Kennedy said, turning from more general comment on President Nixon's war policies.

Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., reacted by saying:

"I fault the military policy that put them here. I'm not an armchair general who can fault the military tactics of the moment."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who recenly called for a start on unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops, said of Kennedy's speech: "It looks like a little opporunism and I suppose we'll get more of that."

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, the Democratic vice presdential nominee in 1968 and a potential rival to Kennedy for the 1972 nomination, said in Detroit he is generally sympathetic to the idea Kennedy expressed in the Senate.

Muskie said a re-evaluation is required on the kind of American military thinking that reacts to a challenge such as Hamburger Hill by a bloody assault.

One Democratic war critic, Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, said, "I confine my own position to policy questions but I wouldn't want to pass judgment on what Kennedy said until I had an opportunity to study it."

Another Democrat, Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, who ran for the Senate on a peace platform and nominated war critic Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president, defended Kennedy.

"I think anything is fair game for Senate debate whether it's tactics or equalization of troops or number of troops committed," Hughes said. "I think there's abundant evidence that criticism of individual decisions may be justified, from Khe Sanh all he way down to Hamburger Hill."

A Republican sharing that view is Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey who said: "I don't have any inhibition against commenting on what I think to be right or wrong whether it be tactics or strategy but I didn't hear the speech so I don't want to comment on it at all."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the GOP whip who has called for a start on withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam, said on the Senate floor it is not for senators to dictate military decisions. "Unless we protect our forces in the field we might as well accept a total defeat and a complete withdrawal," Scott said.

Congress Eyed In FTC Step On Cigarette Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional intervention appears the only roadblock to a proposed Federal Trade Commission regulation requiring all cigarette advertising to state that smoking may cause death.

The FTC said Tuesday the new regulation will apply sometime after June 30, the expiration of the 1965 Cigarette Labeling Act banning changes in current advertising practices.

Unless Congress extends the law—and it is considering it—all advertisements will include clearly and prominently the warning:

"Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death resulting from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

The present warning now only required on packages says; "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Minister Will Speak At Geneva Graduation

Dr. Thomas' topic will be "What of Your Future?"

Congress Eyed In FTC Step On Cigarette Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional intervention appears the only roadblock to a proposed Federal Trade Commission regulation requiring all cigarette advertising to state that smoking may cause death.

The FTC said Tuesday the new regulation will apply sometime after June 30, the expiration of the 1965 Cigarette Labeling Act banning changes in current advertising practices.

Unless Congress extends the law—and it is considering it—all advertisements will include clearly and prominently the warning:

"Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death resulting from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

The present warning now only required on packages says; "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Minister Will Speak At Geneva Graduation

BEAVER FALLS — Dr. D. Reginald Thomas, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church of New York, will give the address during Geneva College's commencement exercises June 3 at 10 a.m. in Metheny Fieldhouse. The public is invited.

Dr. Thomas' topic will be "What of Your Future?"

Receiving degrees will be 27 January graduates and some 240 June graduates.

Junior Editors Quiz on OCEAN CURRENTS

QUESTION: Why were trade winds and water currents so important to early sailors?

* * *

ANSWER: Our picture shows five great ocean currents and the directions of the steadily blowing trade winds. The push of the wind is the main cause of ocean currents. But the spinning of the earth on its axis, from west to east, also affects them, turning them to the right of the wind direction in the Northern hemisphere and to the left in the Southern. Uneven heating of ocean water by the sun also affects ocean currents, as does the various shapes of the land masses. Such currents and the steady trade winds had a great effect in the old days when sea travel was by sailing ship, for these ships moved much slower when the winds or currents were against them. For these reasons, the oldtime sea captains planned their voyages to take advantage of favorable winds and currents. A few years ago, the raft Kon Tiki drifted all the way from South America to the South Seas, to prove that early South American Indians may have used this route because of the favorable winds and current.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How about some comments on making good gravy?

A. — If your gravy is lumpy, beat it with an eggbeater until the lumps disappear. If your gravy does not brown as you would like it, add a tablespoon of strong coffee to it. Also, the addition of a tablespoon of cream to brown gravy gives it a delicious flavor.

Q. — How can I avoid shine on woolen materials when ironing them?

A. — When pressing with a damp cloth, don't iron until the fabric is completely dry, for this causes shine. Press quickly, then allow the steam to rise. This brings up the nap marvelously.

Q. — How can I repair a carpet whose edges are fraying?

A. — With a fine twine, use a buttonhole stitch. When you have finished, color the twine with crayons in matching tones, and press with a hot iron. This usually makes a neat finish, and the carpet will be serviceable for a long time.

Cincinnati Passes Levy To Avert School Crisis

CINCINNATI (AP) — Nearly 85,000 pupils in Cincinnati's public school system were guaranteed a full school-day schedule for this calendar year Monday as a looming financial crisis was eased.

Fifty-seven per cent of nearly 110,000 voters registered approval of an additional 5.2 mill operating levy. School officials had said that defeat of the levy would have forced five school days to be dropped in June and 14 more next December. In all, $8 million in cutbacks were scheduled.

School Supt. Paul Miller, who issued a victory statement with 703 of 726 precincts reporting, had said that if 100,000 to 110,000 people turned out, the levy would pass.

It did. And for the first time in four tries for an additional levy since 1964. The Hamilton County Board of Elections said the turnout was heavy for such a special election, but the issue had been subject to a strenous campaign—by both opponents and supporters.

The official tally was 63,313 for and 46,870 against the assessment of $5.20 for each $1,000 of property evaluation.

In issuing his victory statement, Miller said that "I kntw we could count on that basic Cincinnati quality to come to the front. The voters have shown that they know a good public school system is indispensable to our community's economic life. Their dedication has kept public education from becoming a victim of inflation."

Miller also said the victory breaks a logjam. He was referring to business, pending outcome of the election, that included hiring of teachers. None could be hired recently because a full school year could not be assured. Many present teachers reportedly were considering leaving.

Teachers also will not miss out on two paid holidays scheduled in cutbacks.

Russell Adams, levy campaign director, said promotion of the levy cost about $50,000 although it was absorbed by businesses, industry and private contributins.

Irwin Frieman, head of the League of Hamilton County Property and Home Owners Association which fought passage, said, "It just shows what hundreds of thousands of dollars can do against $7,500. The group opposed the issue on grounds that taxes were too high and a new source of revenue should be found.

Stolen Auto Strikes Home On St. George

A stolen auto veered over the curb at St. George St. and Virginia Ave. late Tuesday night, knocked a U.S. mailbox off its post and then crashed into a home, police reported.

The driver escaped on foot after the 1964 four-door sedan owned by Clifford Branson of 471 Mulberry St. struck the sun porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Birch of 1072 St. George St., officers said. Mrs. Birch said the damage to the home has not been assessed fully, but it is not believed to be severe. Shrubbery on the lawn also was damaged.

Officers took the mailbox to headquarters for safekeeping overnight. The crash was timed at 10:56.

Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon, who investigated, said he found Branson's car was stolen shortly after the owner parked it at his home when returning from work. The car was traveling south on Virginia Ave. when it leaped the curb, knocked the mailbox off its post and then hit the home.

Two minor traffic mishaps also were reported to police.

A collision on Mulberry St. 50 feet south of Pennsylvania Ave. at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday damaged a 1965 sedan driven by Joseph L. Thomas, 46, of 828 Laura Ave. and a 1967 sedan operated by Robert J. Boley, 30, of 1049 Peake St.

Both cars were southbound on Mulberry St. An unidentified car in front of Thomas pulled to the curb and stopped suddenly. When Thomas halted, his car was hit from the rear by Boley's vehicle.

Another mishap was timed at 5:20 p.m. in a driveway at Alpern's scrap yard at Beleek and Kent Sts.

Nathan D. Alpern, 70, of 1414 Pennsylvania Ave. was backing his 1947 model truck in the driveway when it bumped a parked 1969 sedan owned by James K. Bishop of Irondale RD 1, officers said.

Post Selects New Officers

Dorman Householder was elected commander of American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville Monday.

Other officers chosen are: Gary Dawson, first vice president; Dean Morgan, second vice president; Wayne Russell, finance officer; Jack Whitaker, adjutant; George Wilkins, chaplain; Clyde Dawson, trustee; Bob Tolson, Ray Duffield and Larry Russell, sergeant-at-arms.

The post announced its 50th anniversary observance for Aug. 16 with Ed Fogo of Washington, D. C., a former Wellsville resident, as guest speaker. Fogo, the first post commander in 1919, is a charter member.

The Auxiliary "Poppy Day" sale will be Saturday. Dave Mac and his Country Swingers of Ellwood City, Pa., will play for dancing Saturday from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Hearings Continued In Cases At Lisbon

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike has continued until June 3 hearings for two young men arrested early Saturday east of here after pursuit by local police.

The hearings, scheduled Tuesday night, were postponed at the request of counsel for the defendants.

Robert K. Johnston, 23, of E. Washington St., Lisbon, is charged with driving while his license is under suspension, failure to stop for a police officer's signal and following too closely.

His companion, Daniel L. Horner, 21, of 1756 Dakota Ave., East Liverpool, is charged with intoxication and obstructing a police officer attempting to arrest an offender "in that he changed places with the driver and claimed he was driving."

At the close of World War I, the United States had almost one million drug addicts. During Prohibition there were twice as many federal convictions for drug offenses as for liquor violations.

In issuing his victory statement, Miller said that "I kntw we could count on that basic Cincinnati quality to come to the front. The voters have shown that they know a good public school system is indispensable to our community's economic life. Their dedication has kept public education from becoming a victim of inflation."

Miller also said the victory breaks a logjam. He was referring to business, pending outcome of the election, that included hiring of teachers. None could be hired recently because a full school year could not be assured. Many present teachers reportedly were considering leaving.

Teachers also will not miss out on two paid holidays scheduled in cutbacks.

Russell Adams, levy campaign director, said promotion of the levy cost about $50,000 although it was absorbed by businesses, industry and private contributins.

Irwin Frieman, head of the League of Hamilton County Property and Home Owners Association which fought passage, said, "It just shows what hundreds of thousands of dollars can do against $7,500. The group opposed the issue on grounds that taxes were too high and a new source of revenue should be found.

Stolen Auto Strikes Home On St. George

A stolen auto veered over the curb at St. George St. and Virginia Ave. late Tuesday night, knocked a U.S. mailbox off its post and then crashed into a home, police reported.

The driver escaped on foot after the 1964 four-door sedan owned by Clifford Branson of 471 Mulberry St. struck the sun porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Birch of 1072 St. George St., officers said. Mrs. Birch said the damage to the home has not been assessed fully, but it is not believed to be severe. Shrubbery on the lawn also was damaged.

Officers took the mailbox to headquarters for safekeeping overnight. The crash was timed at 10:56.

Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon, who investigated, said he found Branson's car was stolen shortly after the owner parked it at his home when returning from work. The car was traveling south on Virginia Ave. when it leaped the curb, knocked the mailbox off its post and then hit the home.

Two minor traffic mishaps also were reported to police.

A collision on Mulberry St. 50 feet south of Pennsylvania Ave. at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday damaged a 1965 sedan driven by Joseph L. Thomas, 46, of 828 Laura Ave. and a 1967 sedan operated by Robert J. Boley, 30, of 1049 Peake St.

Both cars were southbound on Mulberry St. An unidentified car in front of Thomas pulled to the curb and stopped suddenly. When Thomas halted, his car was hit from the rear by Boley's vehicle.

Another mishap was timed at 5:20 p.m. in a driveway at Alpern's scrap yard at Beleek and Kent Sts.

Nathan D. Alpern, 70, of 1414 Pennsylvania Ave. was backing his 1947 model truck in the driveway when it bumped a parked 1969 sedan owned by James K. Bishop of Irondale RD 1, officers said.

Hearings Continued In Cases At Lisbon

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike has continued until June 3 hearings for two young men arrested early Saturday east of here after pursuit by local police.

Robert K. Johnston, 23, of E. Washington St., Lisbon, is charged with driving while his license is under suspension, failure to stop for a police officer's signal and following too closely.

His companion, Daniel L. Horner, 21, of 1756 Dakota Ave., East Liverpool, is charged with intoxication and obstructing a police officer attempting to arrest an offender "in that he changed places with the driver and claimed he was driving."

At the close of World War I, the United States had almost one million drug addicts. During Prohibition there were twice as many federal convictions for drug offenses as for liquor violations.
